THE ORCHID is a frail, delicate thing; the new born baby must be handled carefully, and sensitive plants are sensitive. But of all sensitive things, the most sensitive is Wall Street.

Something happened to it yesterday. Nobody knows quite what. Perhaps it was because wheat doesn't stay up in spite of higher tariff. Whatever it was, stocks shook themselves down to lower levels and "call" or gambling money went up to 5 per cent.

It's a foolish stock market, for we have everything here between the two oceans, most of the world's gold, and we have kept out of foolish European complications. What is there to worry us?

THE ROYAL Glucksburg dynasty was officially informed by the National Assembly at Athens that Greece would get along without royalty in the future. That's an interesting move in the direction of common sense, but, of course, it takes more than a resolution by the National Assembly to make a republic.

Greece, with enemies close by and indifference farther off, will always be in need of strong central government.

EVEN IN CHICAGO, where men walk with their chins out, doubting nothing, not even that Chicago will soon pass New York, there is an uneasy feeling.

Chicago corporations show enormous earnings in many lines. The Gary steel mills, in the suburbs, are running at record speed. Chicago's building boom is eclipsed nowhere, except in Brooklyn. Why should Chicago worry?

This country acts as though it were getting "rich man troubles." Rich men, you know, worry when there is nothing to worry about, just to remind them how rich they are.

LENIN is to be kept permanently embalmed, and, for the present at least, on view for the inspiration of his followers.

He will lie in state, his cold, serious face reminding all that see him of the power that tore down the feeble Czars, held back all the nations of Europe, and established what is called a government by the workers, but is in reality the autocracy of a small group of powerful, intellectual men.

TO PRESERVE LENIN is not a bad idea. A sincere man, of great courage, he stands unique among all men in the world's history. He is the only man that ever, with the power of his will, overthrew a great empire, seized a nation of one

DAUGHERTY CALLED TO WHITE HOUSE

POINCARE CABINET RESIGNS

Premier and Colleagues Quit When Refused Vote of Confidence by Chamber

Paris, March 26.—Premier Poincare's Cabinet, which has been in power since 1922, was defeated in the Chamber of Deputies today on the question of pensions.

Immediately afterward Premier Poincare left for the Elysee Palace and presented the resignations of himself and his cabinet to President Millerand.

The resignations were accepted.

The government's defeat came during debate upon an amendment to amend the pension bill. Minister of Finance de Lasteyrie demanded a vote of confidence against the proposed amendment, which the government opposed.

POINCARE IS ANGRY.

The cabinet lost by a minority of 17, the vote being: 271 against the government and 264 in favor of it.

After the minister's defeat de Lasteyrie left the chamber, followed by the other members of the cabinet.

Poincare showed deep anger when he reached the presidential palace.

"They can ask me to reform the cabinet, but I will not do it," he told newspaper reporters.

M. Poincare, ever since the creation of his government, has held two posts—that of Premier and Foreign Minister. His defeat comes at a critical time as delicate diplomatic negotiations are under way with Great Britain over the forthcoming report of the reparations experts.

The British ministers have passed out of power since M. Poincare assumed the stewardship of the Frenchy government. They were the governments of David Lloyd George, Andrew Bonar Law and Stanley Baldwin.

During all this turbulent period when Germany was refusing reparations payments and the French and Belgians took over the Ruhr, M.

FIRE DESTROYS HOTEL, WITH $50,000 LOSS

Gorham, N. H., March 26.—The Glen House, one of the leading Summer resort hotels, together with the barn and other outbuildings, were destroyed by fire, which threatened the entire Summer cottage colony, early today.

Neighbors for a mile in every direction were summoned by telephone and these organized bucket brigades which saved the cottages near the hotel. The loss is $50,000.

The hotel buildings stood at the foot of Mt. Washington, and replaced the old Glen House, destroyed by fire thirty years ago.

James Pike, in charge of the hotel and the members of his family made their way to safety with difficulty after they were aroused by the smoke and flames. The entire structure was ablaze when they fought their way to the first floor.

The live stock and some of the farming implements were saved from the barn and outbuildings before the flames spread.

The hastily organized bucket brigade devoted their attention to saving the cottages, practically all of which were unoccupied. Water was carried from the pumps and wells, and when the hotel and barn were in ashes the remainder of the buildings were intact.

The hotel was owned by E. Libby & Sons of Gorham. It was from the

GROCER AND CASH HAVE VANISHED

So. Boston Man Hasn't Been Seen Since He Started for Bank

Carrying a large sum of money, John H. Early, 48, who conducted a grocery store at No. 454 East Eighth street, South Boston, walked from the store on the afternoon of March 7 and disappeared.

Early was on his way to deposit the week's receipts of the store in the South Boston bank. He never reached the bank and foul play is feared.

For more than a year, Early, who is unmarried, conducted the grocery store and lived in an apartment over the store.

It was his practice to go to the bank each Friday and deposit the week's receipts and at the same time secure change for the Saturday trade.

When he left the store on March 7, he told the clerk he would be gone only a short time. When closing time came and the proprietor of the store did not return, the clerk closed the place for the night, thinking Early had simply been detained somewhere.

The next day when Early failed to appear at the store an investigation disclosed the fact that his apartment had not been disturbed during the night.

The police were notified and since that time they have been conducting an investigation, so far fruitless.

A check of the cash register shows that Early carried about $1,000 when he started for the bank.

The fact that he went regularly to the bank each week to make his deposits was known to a number of persons.

It is accordingly feared that bandits may have kidnaped him, spirited him away in an automobile, possibly murdered him and disposed of his body.

Early went to South Boston from Cambridge when he purchased the store.

Police are conducting a close investigation in Cambridge in the hope of obtaining some clew.

In the meantime the grocery store has been closed.

RUBBER BOOT STAINS IN WILKINS MURDER

Kansas City, Mo., March 26.—Stains on a pair of rubber boots, owned by Dillard Davies, negro, one of three men charged with the murder of Dr. Zoe Wilkins, osteopath, today were under examination of chemists to determine whether they were made by blood. Mrs. Eva Grundy said Davies wore the boots when she saw him Saturday night preceding the slaying.

I. B. Walston, chief of detectives, who last night further questioned Dr. A. F. Blanchard, osteopath of Excelsior Springs, Mo., about his connection with the slain woman, said he believed the osteopath knew nothing of the murder.

INNES IN REDMOND PROBE

Boston Lawyer Among Score Summoned, District Attorney Harris Admits

The Federal Grand Jury probe of G. F. Redmond & Co., Inc., is under way. The investigation is being held under the direct supervision of United States District Attorney Robert O. Harris, assisted by Assistant District Attorney John Sullivan, Essex Abbott, and Joseph V. Carroll.

Over a score of witnesses were summoned to appear before the grand jury, many of them prominent lawyers, State and County officials. When asked in the corridor of the Federal Building whether or not Charles H. Innes had been summoned, District Attorney Harris admitted that Innes had been summoned. He said the grand jury session would last about two weeks, and that he might have to stop it for a day or two, in order to get more information from the receivers.

On the benches in the corridor outside of the grand jury room were Daniel V. McIsaac, E. L. Pride, Paul Canty, William Flaherty, Albert Hurwitz, Byron Hall, post office inspector, who is investigating the Redmond case, and Edward E. Ginsberg, an attorney.

SACCO GUN BARREL CHANGED

Report Says Substitution Was Made in the Presence of Court and Witnesses

A new barrel was substituted for the rusty barrel in the Colt automatic of Nicola Sacco, alleged slayer, it was reported today by Judge Webster Thayer in Norfolk County Superior Court at Dedham.

Judge Thayer recently conducted an investigation, following report by a gun expert in the Sacco-Vanzetti case that the barrel in the Sacco gun was not the original barrel in the automatic when it was taken from the alleged slayer.

The report filed today, reveals however, that the substitution was made in the presence of the court and witnesses and probably was accidental.

ORDERS RESTORATION.

Judge Thayer orders that the original barrel be restored to the Sacco pistol and that his pistol, with two others be impounded in charge of the Superior Court clerk.

In his report Judge Thayer said: "I find that the old rusty barrel that was in Hamilton's new pistol is the original Sacco barrel and that the new barrel in the Sacco pistol belongs in Mr. Hamilton's new pistol.

"It is therefore ordered that these two barrels be transferred to their respective pistols. It is further ordered that an order made by the court on November 8, 1923, to the effect that the three pistols be delivered into the custody of the clerk of the Superior Court for the County of Norfolk, to continue in force and said pistols shall remain impounded with him until further order of the court."

ADDED DEFENCE.

Hamilton is a firearms expert who testified for the defence during the Sacco-Vanzetti trial.

Some time ago, during a hearing at the Dedham courthouse on motions filed by counsel in the case, Hamilton, as a gun expert, brought two new Colt automatic pistols to the hearing. These pistols and the Sacco pistol were disassembled in view of the court and later reassembled.

It was during this taking down and putting together of the guns that the transposition of barrels was effected, it was brought out today.

The substitution was discovered by Captain Charles J. Van Amburgh government firearms expert. He informed District Attorney Williams, who in turn informed Judge Thayer. The investigation was begun in February and lasted several days.

GOES WITH LODGE TO COOLIDGE

First Meeting With President Since Charges Against Him Were Aired

Washington, March 26.—Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty and Senator Henry Cabot Lodge held a conference today with President Coolidge.

It was the first conference the Attorney-General had had with the President since the beginning of the investigation of his conduct of the Department of Justice.

Washington, March 26.—Roxie Stinson, divorced wife of Jess W. Smith, intimate of Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty, told the Daugherty investigating committee today that Smith had told her on one occasion "five men had made $33,000,000" in a Sinclair Oil deal in the Fall of 1922.

She had asked Smith, she said, "Were you and Harry in on it?"

"No, that's why we're sure. They were all our friends," she quoted Smith as replying.

Senator Jones asked Miss Stinson to name the five men. She said she "was not sure" of them.

"Was Ned McLean one of them?"

"I'm not sure."

Today's session lacked some of the thrills of those at which Miss Stinson previously had testified, because Senator Wheeler of Montana, the committee "prosecutor," was sick in bed.

Before the questioning of the witness began, Senator Ashurst of Arizona read into the record of a transcript of testimony put before the Oil Committee, having to do with

EVERY PERSON PAYS $42 A YEAR IN TAXES

Springfield, March 26.—Residents of Massachusetts paid taxes amounting to $42 for every man, woman and child in the State in 1923. These taxes were exclusive of those paid to the Federal government. The tax figures were announced by Henry F. Long, commissioner of corporations and taxation, who addressed the Hampden County Assessors's Association today. Mr. Long declared that of the $42 levied on each person in the State the sum of $3.11 was expended by the Commonwealth, while the counties expended $1.81. The remainder, or $37.38, was expended for local governmental activities in the various cities and towns.

stock purchases of Daugherty and Smith.

The stock accounts were under the name of "W. W. Spaid," of the stock brokerage firm of Hibbs & Co., and one of them was identified as a joint account of the Attorney-General and Smith, which, accountants said, might have resulted in a loss of $24,000 on oil stocks.

Miss Stinson began by declaring that despite suggestions to the contrary, she believed Smith committed suicide. She reaffirmed her belief that Attorney-General Daugherty was "morally responsible."

SURE OF SUICIDE

Smith was found dead a year ago in the apartment occupied by him and Daugherty.

Smith had "put his house in order" very carefully just before his death, Miss Stinson said. She based her judgment that he took his own life on that circumstance.

She repeated that Smith was laboring under a great strain resulting from his relations with the transactions she previously had described to the committee.

"It was your belief that Jess Smith committed suicide?" Chairman Brookhart reiterated.

"Yes, sir," Miss Stinson said. "So far as I am concerned, I am sure that he did take his own life. However, I also consider Harry Daugherty morally responsible for his death."

Chairman Brookhart asked her to give details as to the property of Smith before he came to Washington, remarking that by her testimony he had left an estate of between $125,000 and $140,000. The witness produced an inventory, which she explained in detail.

When he went to Washington, she said, he had "some coal stock worth $10,000," and some $60 shares in an other company, "appraised at $70,000, but worth more than that."

H. M. Daugherty President Coolidge

He possessed a share of a dry-goods store which he sold for $40,000," she continued. "A $12,000 house, and two cottages worth $3,500. He might have had a few stocks on margin and other minor things, inconsequential."

ABOUT $36,000

"Now, what did he have when he died that he did not have when he came to Washington?" asked Senator Brookhart.

"There was $63,000 in Liberty bonds at the Riggs Bank," said the witness, and 310 shares of Pure Oil, worth $5,584. Then there was 200 Central Leather, worth $4,000."

"According to figures, on coming to Washington," Senator Moses of New Hampshire, put in, "Mr. Smith had about $136,000?"

Miss Stinson agreed.

Senator Moses then pointed out that the inventory of the estate showed he had at death $214,000, and Senator Jones of Washington asked if the witness had reason to believe Smith left property not covered in the inventory.

After brief hesitation, she said she preferred "not to answer that."

"Are the seventy-five $1,000 bills you testified Mr. Smith had listed in the inventory?" asked Senator Ashurst.

"No."

"You do not know what became of them?"

"I do not."

"Do you know the name of the gentleman who was present when Jess Smith died?"

"Yes, Mr. Martin, Mal Daugherty tells me, was present."

Martin is private secretary to the Attorney-General.

Senator Moses asked if there was "a money belt" found in Smith's personal effects. Miss Stinson said she did not know.

SON-IN-LAW OF FALL FORCED TO RESIGN

Quits Texas Job After Impeachment by Senate in Oil Scandal

Washington, March 26.—Clarence C. Chase, son-in-law of former Secretary Fall, cited by the Senate to the House for impeachment because of refusal to testify in the oil investigation, has been forced to resign as collector of customs at El Paso, Tex.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon held a conference with McKenzie Moss, assistant secretary, to determine whether the resignation would be accepted.

Senator Walsh of the oil probe committee declared the fact that Chase had resigned would have no effect on the proposed impeachment proceedings.

Walsh cited as a precedent the case of former Secretary of War Belknap, who resigned in the face of impeachment, but was put on trial notwithstanding the fact his resignation had been accepted.

Representative George R. Graham, Republican, of Pennsylvania, chairman of the House judiciary committee, and regarded as an authority on constitutional law, stated that the resignation of Chase could have no bearing technically on the question of impeachment proceedings.

Action against Chase was started by Senator Walsh, of Montana, who presented a resolution setting forth that Chase as collector of customs at El Paso, entered into a conspiracy with A. B. Fall to mislead and deceive the committee concerning the source of Fall's $100,000 loan, and that he endeavored to induce Price McKinney, of Cleveland, O., to testify before the committee he had made the loan to Fall.

The resolution pointed out that Chase had refused to answer any questions propounded by the public lands committee on the ground that his answers might incriminate him.

It directed that a copy of the resolution be transmitted to the House of Representatives for such proceedings against Chase as may be appropriate.

A transcript of the proceedings before the committee in which Chase refused to testify accompanied the resolution.

POINCARE QUITS

Poincare held a steady course, always insisting upon a stern policy toward Germany.

While the Chamber supported all Poincare's reparations policies, strong opposition developed when he drew up a series of financial reform measures increasing all taxes 20 per cent, and conferring fiscal dictatorial powers upon himself. This opposition has been growing in strength for the past eight weeks.

Cheers as Lawmaker Regains Precious Chewing Gum

Washington, March 26 (I.N.S.).—Congressman Percy E. Quinn of Mississippi, is addicted to a corn cob pipe, chewing gum and impassioned oratory.

Deprived of his pipe and with a mouth full of gum, he was aroused by debate on the army appropriation bill. Joining in the fray he "parked" his gum on the reading stand and turned loose with violent gesture.

After the end had shifted position several times from the force of blows by Quinn on the stand, Congressman MacLafferty shouted:

"If you are not careful you will lose your gum."

Quinn closed with a grand peroration and was half way from the hall when he remembered his gum. To the accompaniment of yells, cheers and roars of laughter, Quinn returned to the stand, rescued the cud, and resumed operation on it.

COOLIDGE LEAD IN SO. DAKOTA CUT TO 2000

Johnson Shows Steady Gain, and His Victory Is Predicted in Final Returns

Sioux Falls, S. D., Mar. 26 (A.P.).—President Calvin Coolidge was holding a lead of less than 2,000 votes over Senator Hiram Johnson for the Republican Presidential preference when tabulation of returns from yesterday's primary in South Dakota was resumed today.

Gained largely through the city vote in the southeastern part of the State, the Coolidge lead was reduced by reports from heavy Johnson counties. Rural precincts in the central and northeastern parts were expected to cut deeper into the Coolidge vote.

Coolidge workers, answering the claim of Johnson managers that the Californian had won by 10,000 majority, insisted the western part of the State and more nearly complete returns from the southeastern section would enable the President to hold his lead.

On the Democratic ticket, only scattered and incomplete returns were available, but State headquarters declared William G. McAdoo had obtained the presidential indorsement.

Lewiston, Idaho, March 26.—Idaho is in the Coolidge column. The Republican State Convention pledged its eleven delegates to the Cleveland convention to vote for nomination of the President.

ness of eight days. He was fifty-one years old.

Death was caused by double pneumonia which developed after he was forced to take to his bed by a slight cold on March 17.

ILL AT BRIGHT

Before breathing his last, the former district attorney told his brothers his chief regret was the fact that his fight for vindication and reinstatement to public office would be ended with his death.

J. C. Pelletier.

Mr. Pelletier was ousted from office by the Supreme Court.

After being unconscious all day he recovered in the evening and was given the last rites of the church by the Rev. John Fletcher of St. Cecilia's Church, Back Bay.

After being unconscious all day he recovered in the evening and was given the last rites of the church by the Rev. John Fletcher, of St. Cecilia's Church, Back Bay.

Death was painless. At his bedside at the time were his three brothers, Louis, Augustine and Victor, his nurses and Dr. M. J. Cronin and Dr. Henry A. Christain, the latter of the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital.

The funeral will be held from St. Cecilian Church, Back Bay, Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

He returned to Boston last Summer after a trip to Europe he was forced to take in an effort to find a cure for diabetes.

TAKEN ILL MARCH 17.

When Mr. Pelletier was first taken ill with a slight cold on March 17 it was not thought that his sickness was at all serious. He gradually grew worse, however, and on the following Thursday, Dr. M. J. Cronin of Roxbury, his family physician, called in for consultation Dr. Henry A. Christian, the chief physician at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital.

On Tuesday he lapsed into unconsciousness and his doctors and nurses spent the entire day at his bedside.

Towards evening the former district attorney regained his senses and was able to talk coherently with his brothers, doctors, nurses and Father Fletcher just before the last rites were administered.

BORN IN ROXBURY.

Joseph C. Pelletier was born in Roxbury. He was educated in the public schools and was graduated from Boston College with the degrees of A. B. and A. M.

From Boston College he went to Boston University Law School, from which he was graduated and he was admitted to the Massachusetts Bar in 1894.

Immediately on winning the spurs of a lawyer, the young man became active in social and political work. Among other things, he became superintendent and principal of the Marcella Street Home of Boston, a member of the Children's Trustees of Boston and State Civil Service Commissioner.

His social activities made him a member of the Catholic Union, the Twentieth Century Club and the Knights of Columbus.

In the Knights of Columbus he quickly became a national figure when he was made National Advocate. As such he was made Commander in the Order of St. Gregory the Great by Pope Benedict in February, 1920.

In 1909 he ran for district attorney of Suffolk County against Arthur D. Hill, who was then considered a formidable opponent. Mr. Pelletier was elected.

After four months in office he summed up the duties of the district attorney in these words:

"I am the citizens' counsel. I shall strive to obtain justice for them."

POLITICAL ENEMIES

Carrying out this thought he refused to prosecute cases wherein crimes were committed through ignorance or plain dereliction. It was this attitude toward his office, friends say, that brought about his eventual public downfall because, though it built up hosts of friends, it also raised political enemies that almost dedicated their lives to driving him out of office.

In 1912 Mr. Pelletier ran as the Democratic nominee for Governor against Governor Foss, then holding the office. He was defeated, but developed a powerful public support.

The latter part of his administration as District Attorney was stormy. His enemies gathered strength and pressed against him.

In the Emerson Motors Company case, in which that company was accused of fraudulent advertising, Mr. Pelletier's office became the centre of adverse criticism.

In November, 1918, Godfrey Cabot of the Watch and Ward Society announced that a dictaphone had been placed in the district attorney's office and that a large amount of incriminating evidence had been obtained.

Mr. Pelletier is survived by three brothers, Louis S., Augustine S. and Victor M. Pelletier. His mother, Mrs. Cecelia B. Pelletier, died a year ago.

A year ago Mr. Pelletier went abroad for his health.

He visited England, France, Germany and Italy. In Italy, he was a guest of the Pope and rested for a while in the very shadow of the Vatican. From there he went to the baths in Carlsbad, Germany, returning thence home by easy stages.

Dancer Suffers Injury While Doing Her Daily Dozen Calisthenics

New York, March 26.—Mrs. Irene Castle Tremaine McLaughlin, who tripped her way to fame and fortune on ten dainty toes, has broken one of them. The injury was incurred several days ago while she was doing calisthenics.

Irene recently appeared in general sessions against James Cooper, a jeweler of Sea Cliff, L. I., who pleaded guilty of grand larceny. According to the prosecution, Mrs. McLaughlin took a string of pearls, valued at $7,000, to Cooper to be repaired, October 23, 1922.

Cooper, however, pawned the jewels. In holding Cooper in $2,500 bail until April 6, Judge Rosalsky intimated that it would be a good thing if he would recover them.

"I just want the pearls back, your honor," pleaded Irene. "I have no disposition to prosecute Mr. Cooper if he can secure their return."

hundred and twenty millions, and held power as long as he lived.

IT ISN'T safe to prophesy unless you are inspired.

James Russell Lowell, distinguished writing gentleman, who represented this country at the Court of St. James, tried it, when he was traveling in Italy, as follows:

"But I am more and more persuaded every day that, as far as the popular mind is concerned, Romanism is a dead thing in Italy. It survives only because there is nothing else to replace it with, for men must wear their old habits (however threadbare and out at elbows) till they get better. It is literally a superstition—a something left to stand over till the great commercial spirit of the nineteenth century balances his accounts again, and then it will be banished to the limbo of profits and loss.

"The Papacy lies dead in the Vatican, but the secret is kept for the present, and government is carried on in its name."

DOUBTLESS many reading James Russell Lowell's essays in the last century believed that when they read it, but it is the nineteenth century that is dead and buried. The Papacy is more active and powerful than ever it was in Lowell's day.

THE CREATION of two American cardinals attracts as much attention in American newspapers as would the inauguration of an American President; perhaps, more. The Catholic Church is more powerful in the United States today than any other organization, and wealthier by far than any other non-commercial enterprise.

The Knights of Columbus, so recently organized, are probably the most powerful single organization in the United States, far more powerful, because more closely united in action, than the Free Masons.

THE CATHOLIC CHURCH looks ahead, follows the trend of the times, selects its Popes, not like royalty, not by the accident of birth, but by careful selection based on ability. Such organizations do not die.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE has set aside seven thousand one hundred acres of gas-bearing lands in Utah as public property. These lands, containing valuable helium gas, that can be used for dirigibles, because it does not catch fire or explode, will be called "Helium Reserve No. 1." There is no doubt that President Coolidge will protect the helium reserve as long as he is in office. Let us hope that no future Mr. Fall will sell it to any future Mr. Sinclair.

THE BRITISHERS have started on their race around the world, against the American fliers. The race is to see which can make the trip most rapidly. If both get around, or which can go farthest.

That is the kind of competition that ought to exist among nations—friendly competition in the world of science, fighting against nature and her difficulties, in place of fighting with poison gas, bayonets, tanks and brutal commercial selfishness.

THE WHOLE Japanese nation is saving its money to make up the loss in the earthquake. No nation on earth works more closely united than the Japanese people. Whatever any Japanese has belongs to his country, whether it be his money or his life. No wonder Japan leads all Asia.

As to Japan's debts, J. Pierpont Morgan points out that the Japanese nation was founded 2,584 years ago, and has never been in default for one dollar on any debt. That's a pretty good record.

MOTHER MURDERED AS HER TWO BABIES WAIT IN AUTOMOBILE

STABBED IN THROAT BY UNKNOWN

Dying, She Is Hurled From Car by Stranger, Who Has Vanished

New York, March 26.—Accepting a lift from an unidentified motorist after her car stuck in a mudhole in an isolated section of Chelsea, Staten Island, Mrs. Maude A. Bauer of Port Richmond, an attractive woman of thirty-one, was murdered, a few minutes after she had passed from sight of her mother and her two children, who waited in the marooned car.

She was found, still alive, by her mother, Mrs. Mary Perro, but died a few minutes after the arrival of Dr. Goller of St. Vincents Hospital, West New Brighton. She had been hurled from the automobile and was found lying on her back.

She had been stabbed in the front of her throat, shot in the abdomen and struck in the jaw while resisting her attacker. Police said robbery was not the motive. Her purse contained some money was untouched.

Mrs. Bauer's husband, a mechanical engineer, left earlier in the day to take a position with the Cadillac Motor Company in Detroit. Then Mrs. Bauer, her mother and the children, Katherine, six and Helen, three, started for a ride. Several hours later she stalled her small car into Lambert Lane.

OFFERED A LIFT.

A few minutes later, Mrs. Perro told the police, a young man came along in an automobile and offered help. Mrs. Bauer had just started to walk down South avenue in search of a telephone to seek aid from a garage. At the stranger's suggestion she got into his car and they started away, waving a casual goodbye to the children.

They had been gone only fifteen or twenty minutes when Mrs. Perro was startled to see the stranger's automobile dash past her in the opposite direction from that first taken. The man was alone. He did not speak to her.

Becoming alarmed, she took the children and started walking in the direction in which her daughter was last seen. Around a tree-shrouded curve, not more than 1,000 feet from the marooned automobile she came upon the unconscious form of her daughter.

SEARCH UNDER WAY.

A few minutes later the frantic woman notified police at the New Dorp Station. Patrolman Dechtarot rushed to the scene. A call had already been sent to St. Vincent's Hospital and an ambulance raced toward Chelsea. Mrs. Bauer died without regaining consciousness.

Search for the murderer was begun by a score of detectives directed by Captain Van Wagner, in charge of Staten Island detectives. All ferries giving exit from the island were put under police guard.

Police have a good description of the murderer, furnished by Mrs. Perro, who saw him twice.

DISTILLER HELD AS CONDUCTOR'S SLAYER

St. Louis, Mo., March 26.—An indictment was returned by a Grand Jury against Lem Motlow, wealthy Tennessee distiller, who was released on $25,000 bond in East St. Louis, Ill., following an inquest charging him with homicide in the fatal shooting of Clarence T. Pullis, Pullman car conductor, on a train March 17. Although Pullis was shot as the train pulled out of St. Louis, his death occurred in Illinois. His release on bonds by Illinois authorities was protested by Circuit Attorney Sidener and considerable controversy followed.

MASONIC LODGES BENEFIT UNDER WILL

The will of Henry Child Miller, a wealthy resident of Winchester, was filed for probate in the Middlesex Court. The estate was estimated at approximately $125,000. Among the public bequests were: Hugh de Payne Commandery, Knights Templar, of Melrose $5,000 to be used as a charity fund; William Parriman Lodge A. F. and A. M. of Winchester $2,000 to be used for a building fund; Masonic Home at Charlton $2,000 and Parish of Epiphany of Winchester (Episcopal) $10,000.

LADY MARCONI FOILED BY NEW DIVORCE LAW

Radio Wizard's Wife Cannot Get Decree in Fiume Under New Law

Rome, March 26.—Lady Marconi, wife of the famous scientist and radio wizard, is among the Italians affected by the passage of the new divorce law in Fiume and forced to seek elsewhere for severance of marriage ties.

Before the annexation, Fiume had become the Reno of Italy, where a divorce could be easily obtained after a technical residence was established.

Now that the law has been changed to conform with the Italian one, which prohibits granting of divorces on any grounds, many Italians are seeking decrees in Hungary.

This, however, involves the assumption of Hungarian nationality on the part of the litigants and it's doubtful whether Lady Marconi, who is the lady in waiting to the Queen of Italy, will be willing to take this step.

Although her desire to divorce her husband has been rumored for two years the inventor's wife started proceedings only this year, on the ground of incompatibility of temperament.

PORTER GOT BIG THRILL OUT OF LECTURE

Ford Tried to Benefit Dartmouth Men by Lessons Learned on Railroad

New York, March 26.—John Baptist Ford, lecturing negro Pullman porter, back on his job today, said his climb by self-education from the cotton fields to a railroad job and a home of his own was nothing compared with his climb to the professor's platform at Dartmouth College.

"The thrill that comes but once in a lifetime, and to mighty few of my race," was his description of his feelings after addressing Professor Malcolm Keir's class in transportation in Tuck Hall at Hanover, N. H.

"You can catch more flies with molasses than with water," is how Ford explains that kindness and willing service have won him his recognition as the most honored of 10,000 Pullman porters in America.

"I didn't go to Dartmouth for the lecturer's fee they paid me, or the free ride in a Pullman unbothered by work," said Ford. "I went because I really thought I could put over to the boys some of the lessons I've learned while railroading back and forth in America."

A special meeting of the union has been called for Monday night. The contract under which the drivers are now working will expire on April 1.

Hub Firm Orders 11 Million Blocks for Mah Jongg

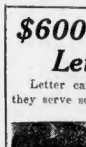
$600 a Year More Is All Letter Carriers Ask

Letter carriers are indespensable to the public that they serve so loyally yet the public ungratefully has allowed them to be the lowest paid of its servants. Congress ought to pass the Kelly-Edge bill which would increase the salaries of these men from $1800 to $2400 a year.



J. W. Eklof

Consider the case of Letter Carrier J. W. Eklof, of the Central Post Office. He has been in the service for more than twenty-nine years. His route covers the Exchange Building. He is the father of five children. He supports his family and pays $40 a month rent on $1800 a year.

MAN SECURES BABY AFTER ARGUMENT

Mother-in-Law Puts Up Stiff Opposition Before Surrendering Child

Ira M. Conant, of Watertown, a certified public accountant with an office at No. 110 State street, Boston, was granted temporary custody of little Emmaline pending final action on his suit for divorce, heard in Middlesex Probate Court in which he charged his wife with infidelity.

He went to the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Emmaline Loud, at No. 22 Carver road east, Watertown, and demanded the little girl.

After nearly an hour of arguments, during which time a police officer stood by to prevent bodily harm to either of the two, Conant was allowed to take the baby away.

NAMES FORMER PARTNER.

As he stepped from the house with the child in his arms, Mrs. Loud remarked: "Please be good to another man's child."

Lawyers, doctors and police were called in to the affair before Mrs. Loud would agree to let the baby go from her home. A physician, she said, was attending the girl. She first conferred with her lawyer and then allowed the baby to go when it was learned that the child was well enough to leave the home.

In the divorce action Conant charges his wife with infidelity and names his former business partner, Ernest Griswold of Waltham, now a teacher at the Y. M. C. A. School, Huntington avenue, as co-respondent.

"PROPOSAL" MADE.

Conant testified that his wife and Griswold, whose wife was killed in an automobile accident while en route to the Cornell-Dartmouth football game last Fall, became too friendly when he was stopping at the Griswold home. He went there with his wife, he said, following Mrs. Griswold's death, to care for the children.

During the days that followed, Conant added, his wife and his former business partner became entirely too intimate. When he found them singing a duet in a bathroom late at night, clad in pajamas, he decided it was time to stop the affair, he said.

On another occasion Griswold, Conant continued, proposed to Mrs. Conant while he was standing beside them. To make matters worse, the husband said, Mrs. Conant accepted the proposal and mentioned something about a divorce.

SEARCH FOR MISSING CUDAHY CHAUFFEUR

Chicago, March 26.—Search for Walter Butzbach, 30, an automobile salesman, whose relatives say he has been missing since February 29, when he hired as a chauffeur to a man named Cuddihy, has been extended to New York and Detroit, where he planned to drive his employer, before his disappearance.

Although Dr. J. B. Matheson, physician of John R. Cudahy, relative of the packer, denied Mr. Cudahy could be the man mentioned, detectives have asked Los Angeles, Memphis and New York authorities concerning him.

WHO IS THE POLICE CHIEF IN ROCKPORT?

Rockport, March 26.—Who is to be chief of the two-man Police Department of this town?

Robert L. Eaton received one more vote than John E. Sullivan, and according to an existing by-law of this town, which provides that the candidate receiving the largest vote shall be chief, would have had the right to wear the gold star.

Sullivan has demanded a recount, said Eaton has brought a bill in equity and secured a temporary injunction, restraining the town from going ahead with the recount.

SCRANTON CARMEN TO STRIKE APRIL 1

Scranton, Pa., March 26.—Meeting in special session today, the 600 employes of the Scranton Railway Company ratified the action taken by their executive committee, and voted to strike April 1 if their demands for an increase to 50 cents an hour and a change in working conditions are not granted.

Officials of the company have answered the action of the employes with the statement that to grant the demands would mean putting the company into bankruptcy.

BERRY ENDORSED FOR VICE PRESIDENT

Washington, March 26. — The American Federation of Labor in a statement obviously endorsed the candidacy of Major George L. Berry of Tennessee for Vice-President on the Democratic ticket. The inference is drawn that should Berry get the nomination the A. F. of L. will bend its efforts towards a united support of labor to the Democratic party.

The statement says that the candidate has the support of "active legion and labor committees in twenty-four cities, including Boston."

Flirting by Gotham Cops on Duty Is Put Under Ban

New York, March 26.—No longer may New York's policemen—there are almost thirteen thousand of them—flirt while on duty.

Nor may they tell details of their business to their wives.

These are two of several "don'ts" issued today to members of his force by Police Commissioner Enright.

The list includes admonitions not to criticize superiors, not to be a "grouch," not to lean against walls or posts, not to keep hands in pockets, not to abuse prisoners.

"Make honesty, sobriety and truthfulness your all," says Enright.

RUM PLOT BARED BY THE ARREST OF WOMAN

Conspiracy to Smuggle in Canadian Liquor Revealed in Cleveland After Seizure

Cleveland, March 26.—Unearthing of what is believed to be a great rum-running plot was revealed today in the arrest of Mrs. Minnie Sack, thirty, of Toronto.

Warrants have been issued charging two men, companions of Mrs. Sack, with a conspiracy to smuggle into Cleveland wholesale quantities of Canadian liquor.

A huge quantity of bonded liquor has been seized.

Arraigned before a Federal commissioner, Mrs. Sack denied any knowledge of the plot. She was held in default of $5,000 bail.

Federal officers are on the trail of a man who left the hotel shortly before Mrs. Sack's arrest, and who is believed to be a ringleader in the conspiracy.

AMATEUR SHOW GIRLS SHOCK POLICE

Springfield Chief Orders Local Dancers to Don More Clothing

Springfield, March 26.—Scantily clad young women, including many pretty Springfield maidens, who are appearing this week at an amateur show at the Broadway Theatre, were ordered by Chief Guilty of the police department, to drape their legs with more clothing, especially the esthetic dancers.

His orders followed an inspection of the show by the police women. They were led to visit the theatre by the report of Sergeant Harley Bladgett, who looked over the dress rehearsal of the show in his job as censor and confessed that he was somewhat shocked at the lack of clothing on the girls.

Ambassador and Mrs. Phillips to Visit In Boston, Says Betty Alden

By BETTY ALDEN.

FRIENDS of Mr. and Mrs. William Phillips will be interested to learn that they are planning to visit in Boston before sailing for Belgium, where Mr. Phillips goes to take up his duties as ambassador.

Last year Mrs. Phillips and the five children made a long season of it at their Summer home in Beverly. Mr. Phillips coming up from Washington whenever his duties permitted.

The Under Secretary of State and Mrs. Phillips, who was formerly Miss Caroline Astor Drayton, have become known in capital circles for the delightful musicales which they have given at "Beauvoir," their suburban home. This place, by the way, Mr. and Mrs. Phillips are shortly giving up.

Mrs William Phillips
Copyright, Harris and Ewing

A round of festivities are being tendered the Phillipses until they sail on May 3 on board the Leviathan. Upon leaving the capital, they will visit in Gotham and the Hub.

Mr. Phillips, a Harvard man of the 1900 class, is the son of Mrs. John C. Phillips of Boston and Beverly. Recently he and his wife visited Mrs. Phillips at her villa in Bermuda.

Which reminds me that Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Peters—the latter is a sister of Mr. Phillips—have returned to Boston following their sojourn in Bermuda, also as guests of Mrs. Peters' mother.

MRS. REGGY FOSTER, whose red-gold hair sparkles almost as much as her personality, is to do a Rag Doll dance with Mrs. Hendricks H. Whitman in "Wake Up," the widely-heralded Vincent show.

When Mrs. Foster was Frances Hoar, and before her sister Louisa became Mrs. Christopher LeFarge, it was considered distinctly a coup to add the Hoar sisters to the program of any charity function.

Fortunately for the Vincent Club Mrs. Foster has lost none of the interest of her Frances Hoar days in that organization. Last year she designed many of the bewitching costumes for "Rush and Wrangle," and this year, besides doing some of the costumes, she is to do the Rag Doll dance mentioned above.

MRS. REGINALD FOSTER

AMONG Boston folk travel bound are Mrs. Harry Pratt McKean (Bessie Lee) and her sister, Mrs. Arthur Adams (Margery Lee Sargent).

In their travels Mrs. McKean, who is one of the jolliest members of the year-round colony on the North Shore, and her sister will visit another sister, the former Florence Lee. It was in December that she became the wife of Major Henry Grey-Edwards, who has taken his bride to live in London.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lee of Beverly Farms, parents of the Lee girls, have been spending part of the season in Palm Beach since the last of their daughters has left the parental nest.

DOCTORS FIND 'FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH'

Harvard and Other Researchers to Announce Cure for "Old Age" Diseases

Official announcement is soon to be made of the discovery of a process that will put Massachusetts instead of Florida on the map as the State in which the Fountain of Youth, which lured Ponce de Leon across the seas, may be located.

The discovery has to do with the so-called "old age" diseases, which frequently, however, attack young persons and those in their early maturity. High blood pressure, degeneration of the kidneys, heart, liver and other organs, obesity and anemia, general debility and premature senility are among the afflictions that come with these "old age" diseases.

Great secrecy surrounds the plans of the scientists and details of the discovery, but it was learned that official announcement is to be made through the medical journals in the near future.

Harvard Medical School, Massachusetts General Hospital, Massachusetts Homeopathic Hospital and one or two other prominent institutions are represented on the committee formed to study several hundred cases and work out a standard system for applying the discovery by general medical practitioners.

The general committee in charge of the work includes: Dr. W. T. Bovie, research fellow in bio-physics and member of the Cancer Commission, Harvard Medical School; Dr. David J. Johnson, Boston Institutions Commissioner; Professor E. H. Bradford, Harvard Medical School; Professor John H. Cunningham, international authority on gynecology, Harvard Medical School; Dr. Richard P. Strong, professor of tropical medicine at Harvard Medical School, and M. Douglas Flattery, chairman.

ANN IS STILL SINGLE, SHE AFFIRMS

Dainty "Follies" Star Denies Report of Wedding to Stage Partner

New York, March 26.—"Just because we have spats and quarrels is no reason that we are married," exclaimed Ann Pennington at the Palace when asked to affirm her reported marriage to Brooke Johns, her partner in the act the pair are doing at the Keith Music Hall and at the Ziegfeld "Follies."

"Please deny that we are married. I am living in strict singleness and Brooke tells me that he is, too. I have too great respect for the sacrament of marriage to speak of it lightly and I do not intend to become anyone's wife until I quit the stage and make a real honest-to-goodness home for myself and my husband. Brooke is a peach, but he is not my husband."

Brooke Johns smiled down from his six feet four of altitude upon his tiny partner and said:

"Yes, we are not married."

BEAN FLATLY DENIES STORY OF CORCORAN

Merchant Says He Never Paid $4,500 Settlement or Saw Walsh Before

George Bean, proprietor of the Dainty Waist Company, Washington street, Boston, flatly denied on the witness stand at the Corcoran trial that he had ever been in the office of William J. Corcoran, that he had ever paid $4,500 to settle a case in Corcoran's office, and that he had ever employed Attorney Joseph P. Walsh as his counsel.

William J. Corcoran earlier in the day had testified that Bean with Attorney Walsh as his counsel had come to his office and settled a case against Bean. He testified that the case had to do with a man named Goddard and Goddard's wife. He testified that Goddard's wife had worked for Bean.

Previous to that Corcoran had testified that he had secured a report on Bean from a financial bureau in connection with an alienation case against Bean. He later testified that the case was the one involving the Goddards. Attorney Walsh is now counsel for Corcoran in the trial at East Cambridge.

Bean stated that Mrs. Goddard formerly was employed by him in his wax shop. He said he did not know what her husband did, but thought he was a salesman. He said Mrs. Goddard got through at his place two or three years ago.

"Didn't you pay $4,500 in Corcoran's office in January, 1920?" asked Walsh.

"I did not," replied Bean.

Followed long questioning relative to Bean's check books and business books. He said he would bring them to court if he could find the check books and other account books for 1919 and 1920; explaining that he usually throws them in the waste basket after a couple of years.

DEATH ENDS PRISON TERM FOR LAWYER

New Bedford, March 26—Death ended the prison sentence and stormy career of Alvin G. Weeks, former prominent Fall River attorney, Spanish War veteran, ex-member of the State Legislature and one-time Progressive candidate for Congress, at St. Luke's Hospital here.

Brooding over his loss of esteem while in the House of Correction, reduced Mr. Weeks to frail health and he was an easy victim of pneumonia.

On November 12, last year, he began an 18 months' sentence of larceny in connection with the misappropriation of funds of the estate of Captain George Hall of Westport. He was inducted in 1921, but friends obtained his release by making partial restitution.

MRS. HARRY ALPERT
HARRY ALPERT

While Mr. and Mrs. Harry Alpert, of No. 20 Allen street, West End, were at a theatre, their home was looted of jewelry and clothing valued at $300. Two hundred dollars in cash in the bottom of a cedar chest escaped notice of the thieves.

Mrs. Alpert's wedding dress, other silk garments and all her husband's suits were taken with wedding presents, consisting mostly of silverware from the chest where the $200 reposed.

The robbery was discovered by the couple when they returned home. Entrance was gained by the thieves, police say, through a window opening in the kitchen.

MILLION LOST IN SWINDLE IS CHARGE

Portland, Me., March 26.—Disclosure of a high-handed stock swindling scheme that has nearly brought a $4,000,000 corporation into a state of insolvency, and caused ruin to many stockholders, was promised in Supreme Court by M. D. Patterson, district attorney of Blair County, Pennsylvania, appearing as counsel for Michael Abel of Hastings, Pa., in a bill in equity brought against the Confederated Home Abattoirs Corporation.

Mr. Abel is a stockholder who says he represents 600 others, and he asks for dissolution of the corporation, which is engaged in the meat packing business with headquarters at Eldorado, Pa., and appointment of Eugene L. Bodge of Portland, now temporary receiver, as a permanent receiver.

Mr. Patterson stated that the corporation is controlled by E. N. Brown and William F. Gorman of New York and Boston, who have also organized the Gorman-Brown Engineering Company.

He declared that the two came into Maine and organized the abattoir company and in a short time had [illegible] worth of stock and had squandered the money so that today the only assets left are a plant at Eldorado, two pieces of real estate and furniture in eighteen company offices in the East, not worth the rent being paid.

SUDBURY FEARS FORD'S LAND GRABBING

Residents Foresee Him as Lord of All He Surveys In District

South Sudbury, March 26—Residents of this town are alarmed at the continued success of Henry Ford in acquiring extensive property in this section.

They fear that before long Ford will have become the owner of all the worth-while estates here and that the section will become known as the "Fief of Ford."

Many owners of property here who have been approached by Ford with offers to buy their holdings have steadfastly refused to part with them. One owner, explaining his refusal, quoted the famous lines of Oliver Goldsmith's "The Deserted Village."

"Ill fares the land, to hastening ills a prey,
Where wealth accumulates and men decay:
Princes and lords may flourish or may fade,
A breath can make them as a breath has made,
But a bold peasantry, their country's pride,
When once destroyed can never be supplied."

Nevertheless, they confess that if the price offered them is high enough, they will inevitably be induced to part with their property.

The latest deal which Henry Ford, who is now at his Wayside Inn, is said to be negotiating is the purchase of the Grist Mill property at Pratt's Pond, owned by William A. Stearns of Watertown. It adjoins the farm owned by Babe Ruth.

INMATE KILLED BY FIRE IN INFIRMARY

144 Other Inmates Rescued, One Near Death, at R. I. Institution

Howard, R. I., March 26.—Isaac Buckley, sixty-seven years old, an inmate of the State Infirmary, died as he was being carried to safety, and John Anderson, another patient, is expected to die as the result of inhaling smoke during a fire that threw 145 men into a panic.

Forty of the 145 patients in the infirmary were bed-ridden. The ages of the 145 ranged from seventy to eighty-five years.

Although the excitement was great, the fire damage was small, the firemen succeeding in confining the blaze to the building in which it started.

John Anderson, the man who is expected to die, was rescued by Lieutenant Henry C. Debow of the Cranston police after he had been overlooked by other rescuers. Lieutenant Debow collapsed after carrying Anderson to safety, the result of breathing smoke.

Five alarms were sounded for the fire, help coming from as far as Providence.

The hospital attendants moved the inmates to other buildings, thus saving them from exposure.

L. H. Putnam, superintendent of the institution's fire department, assumed charge of the fire-fighting forces.

BRIDE WHO EXPOSED SLAYER-HUSBAND FEARS FOR OWN LIFE

GIRL WEPT AT GRAVE OF VICTIM

Conscience Drove Her to Tell How Mate Had Slain Aged Landlady

New York, March 26. — It seemed today to persons who questioned Mrs. Harry Fenton about the killing by her husband of Miss Mary Coleman, aged rooming house proprietress, that fate had decreed the young wife's life should be closely associated with murders of extremely cruel varieties.

A year and a half ago, when Mrs. Fenton was only seventeen, it was learned she lived with a man suspected by the police to have slain two girls in a Staten Island woods.

At that time Policewoman Mary Sullivan had Mrs. Fenton, then Miss Mary Farlow, placed in the Florence Critteston Home. Later the police woman found employment for the girl and virtually forgot her existence.

Then came the night last week when the girl sought Miss Sullivan and told her that Fenton, who had married her under an assumed name on February 27, had killed Miss Coleman with a hammer and had concealed the crime by putting the body on Miss Coleman's bed and setting fire to the room after sprinkling it with benzine.

WEPT FOR SLAIN WOMAN.

With Fenton in the Tombs and an alleged confession by him in the hands of the police, the girl-wife asked Assistant District Attorney Marro to have her committed as a material witness, because she feared "something might happen" to her if she remained at large.

Her request was granted by Judge McIntyre of General Sessions, who sent her to Jefferson Market women's prison in default of $10,000 bail fixed purely as a technicality.

A sidelight was thrown on the girl's character by John W. McCabe, undertaker of No. 243 Fest 118th street, and his assistant, John S. Lesko, who told the authorities Mrs. Fenton had attended the funeral of Miss Coleman, whose murder she had witnessed, and had wept constantly during the services.

WIFE WITNESSED CRIME.

"I needed the money and I thought she had thousands, but I only got $15."

That was Harry Fenton's explanation to detectives for murdering his aged landlady. He declared he didn't know his eighteen-year-old bride was watching as he crushed the woman's skull with a hammer.

FEATURE OF "THE GREAT WHITE WAY"

Many sporting celebrities appear in the above picture. Left to right they are: Billy Gould, Pete Hartley, famous light-weight; Joe Humphreys, noted announcer; Johnny Gallagher, who refereed the Dempsey-Firpo fight; Oscar Shaw, Jack Hennessey, well-known trainer, and Tom Lewis.

BRISBANE SEEN AS ACTOR IN 'WHITE WAY'

Famous Editorial Writer of Hearst Papers Has Prominent Role

Arthur Brisbane, famous editorial writer, essays the role of a motion picture actor in "The Great White Way," the Cosmopolitan Corporation's surprise photoplay at the Park Theatre.

Mr. Brisbane appears in the scenes which graphically bring to the screen for the first time the busy interior of a metropolitan newspaper plant.

In addition to the noted editor, many other well-known newspaper writers and artists appear in the new picture. They include Irvin S. Cobb, H. C. Witwer, Damon Runyon, "Bugs" Baer, Hal Coffman, George McManus, Winsor McCay, Nell Brinkley, Harry Hershfield and J. W. McGurk.

"The Great White Way," a picturization of H. C. Witwer's popular story, "Cain and Mabel," is an accurately drawn picture of life in and around New York.

Tex Rickard, Ned Wayburn, Shirley Vernon, Earl Sande, Joe Humphries, Johnny Gallagher and other celebrities also appear in the new photoplay, the professional cast of which includes Anita Stewart, T. Roy Barnes, Oscar Shaw, Tom Lewis, Olin Howland, Harry Watson, Hal Forde, Stanley Forde, Billy Gould and Frank Wonderley.

At the matinee showing tomorrow and Friday Oscar Shaw will appear in person and tell how it feels to take part in a championship bout with a real pugilist.

What Bay Staters Are Saying

DR. PAYSON SMITH, State Commissioner of Education, declared at a public meeting of the Durant in Lorimer Hall: "Of all the institutions in the world the only one left that has a trace of individualism is the home."

JOHN W. MACE, national field director of the Near East Relief, told a meeting of Greater Boston ministers: "The people of Massachusetts little know what they have done for the children of the Near East and how much their continued support means to them in happiness and life. Massachusetts people have actually saved their lives."

SENATOR DAVID I. WALSH, in supporting the Wadsworth amendment, providing that the state voters rather than Legislatures shall pass on constitutional amendments, declared: "After Congress proposes a change in the constitution of the people, we should not go to a boss or Legislature that can be manipulated, but should go directly to the people themselves."

E. MARK SULLIVAN, corporation counsel for Boston, speaking before the Kiwanis Club at the Boston City Club, said: "While Boston has been falling in shipping, Baltimore has grown beyond measure and Philadelphia's business has increased considerably."

J. FRANK DE CHANT, vice-president of the Sheldon School of Chicago, at the monthly dinner of the Boston Section, Reciprocity Club, in the Hotel Bellevue, said: "When your child remonstrates against going to school, sell him the idea by pointing out examples and practical reasons why he should get an education. When your wife disapproves certain plans which you desire to see succeed, put yourself in the position of salesman and try to convince her."

REV. ROBERT SWICKERATH, S. J., of Holy Cross College, declared in a lecture in Boston College High School Hall: "Without some kind of participation by the United States in the European embroglio, peace will not be restored and President Wilson's name will be immortal through his advocacy of a union of the nations."

PROTECTION IN PURCHASE OF USED CARS

Boston American's Force of Mechanics Will Advise as to Auto's Value

If you intend adding your dust to the cloud that will be whirled up on the roads of the country this summer—read this!

Hundreds of used cars are on sale by automobile dealers.

If you know used cars, you can pick one up that is almost as good as a new car.

But if you don't know automobiles—! That is where the Boston American "Inspected-Insured" plan is proving an invaluable aid to its readers.

Skilled mechanics are inspecting used cars offered for sale by cooperating dealers.

They are not inspecting cars for appearances.

They are inspecting them for operation—investigating parts that the ordinary purchaser of a car does not bother to examine.

These mechanics are protecting you. They are noting on a blue certificate the mechanical condition of each car, point by point.

They are pasting these blue "Inspected-Insured" certificates on the windshields, so that the prospective purchaser may tell at a glance the condition of each car.

It is the first service of its kind offered by any newspaper in this country to its readers.

If you intend adding your dust to the cloud that will be whirled up on the roads of the country this Summer—read the blue certificates on the windshields. You will discover that the car is also insured to the purchaser for a limited time against fire and theft.

Not only does the Boston American "Inspected-Insured" blue certificate tell you the used car's mechanical condition, but it insures the car for a limited period against fire and theft.

Merrick, commissioner of labor, to Governor Silzer.

CROKER WIDOW WINS VICTORY IN WILL FIGHT

Balks Attempt by Stepchildren to Obtain Court Ruling Favoring Them

New York, March 26. — —Mrs. Richard Croker balked an attempt by her stepchildren to obtain in Supreme Court a judgment which would have meant victory for them in their battle with the widow over the estate of the late Tammany leader.

Counsel for the stepchildren moved for the judgment upon the basis of a jury decision of last November upholding their demand that the estate be divided according to an agreement Croker was alleged to have made. Mrs. Croker's victory consisted of a decision by Justice Evy to hear additional evidence before granting the judgment.

The agreement under which the Tammany leader's children would divide the estate was alleged to have been that if Richard, Jr., would give his share in his mother's estate to his brother, Howard, his father would give Howard an equal sum, approximating $80,000, and a like amount to Mrs. Ethel White, a daughter.

Counsel for Mrs. Croker promised to produce a letter in Croker's handwriting to prove he never intended to enter any such agreement.

SEARCH BOSTON FOR MONTREAL OFFICIAL

On behalf of a sick mother and a bride of only six weeks, the Montreal police have asked the Boston authorities to search the Hub for Armand Lariviere, Montreal constable, who disappeared from that city March 4.

Lariviere, the Boston police were told, was known to have purchased a ticket for Boston, and was later seen in Gloucester.

He vanished only two weeks after his marriage. First his wife was stricken ill after his disappearance and then his mother. The latter is about to undergo an operation.

The description of the missing man was broadcast by radio by the Boston police. He is described as six feet two inches tall, smooth shaven, and well proportioned. He speaks both English and French fluently.

When he disappeared he had his police badge No. 485 and $50 in cash.

STRICKEN VETS ALL TO HAVE RADIO SETS

Washington, March 26.—Broadways latest melodies will be brought to the beds of 12,000 veterans of the World War who lie helpless in government hospitals, Director Frank L. Hines of the Veterans' Bureau announced today.

An order was issued that all new hospitals be wired so that radio head sets might be extended from a central receiving station to every bed. Nine hospitals under construction and nine others, plans of which are being prepared, will be thus equipped.

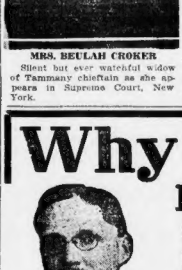
Why I Sell PIANOS So Low That I Am Talked About.

—J. P. COLLINS



PIANO SALE

New Upright Pianos

New Player Pianos

Baby Grands

Are you aware, my friends, that I am known all over Boston and New England as the man who would rather sell 100 pianos at $1 apiece profit than sell one piano at a profit of $100?

I have often been asked by piano dealers, business men and friends why I am willing to accept so small a profit on the sale of a piano.

My answer has always been, I am doing such a big business that it is absolutely necessary for me to carry and move quickly an enormous stock of pianos.

FRIENDLY TALKS WITH FRIENDLY CUSTOMERS

—By J. P. COLLINS

The other day a woman said to me: Mr. Collins, I have been reading and hearing of your liberal treatment of customers. I bought a piano from a house and through sickness I ran behind in my payments. Can you help me save my piano which is more than half paid for?" I agreed to take over her indebtedness and give her ample time to pay for it. This is only one of many cases that come to me for help.

My business is to serve the public. I do it by keeping piano prices down—so that the every day man and woman can buy a piano without paying luxury prices for it—I have in mind the needs and circumstances of the family man. When he is out of work or has sickness in the family he knows that J. P. Collins will consider him a friend and take care of his account.

To buy a piano from J. P. Collins is INSURANCE against loss of piano through sickness, loss of work, etc. All I ask is that a man or woman is honest and willing to pay. When circumstances over which a person has no control render it difficult to meet payments, all my customers have to do is notify me and I will take care of them.

SUSPECTED GANG LEADER IN $150,000 MAIL ROBBERY TAKEN

POLICE SEEK ELEVEN MORE IN HARVEY, ILL., HOLDUP

Chicago, March 26.—Carl Fontana, suspected gang leader, is under arrest and a police search is being made for eleven gangsters in connection with the $150,000 registered mail pouch robbery at Harvey by four bandits, who escaped in an automobile after exchanging shots with pursuers.

Police say Fontana owns the machines which the bandits abandoned near West Hammond. He declared that the machine was stolen from his home while he slept, but members of his family state he was away from home at the time of the robbery officers say. When apprehended, Fontana was jimmying the doors of his garage.

Near the abandoned car postal inspectors found $4,000 in one dollar bills, part of the shipment of money contained in the registered pouches, which held payrolls for more than 2,000 employes of Harvey industries.

In making their getaway the bandits, who were riding in a car painted blue, rammed a small truck, overturning it in a ditch and tossing the driver, an eighteen-year-old boy, over the hood.

Russell, the sixty-year-old postal messenger, following his daily routine, was at the station to meet the 2:45 train from Chicago. Twice a month the Federal Reserve Bank here ships large sums to the First National ... of Harvey for the payrolls of the Buda Manufacturing Corporation, and the Austen Manufacturing Company.

The bandits loitered around the platform, waiting until the train pulled out of the station. Then four of them surrounded Russell, and while one held him at the point of a revolver the others loaded the sacks into their automobile, which the postoffice messenger noticed, contained six shotguns. As they were leaving the leader struck Russell in the face with his revolver barrel, knocking him senseless.

The mail sacks slashed open were found during the day by a school teacher near West Hammond. In one of the bags reposed a package containing $4,000 in $1 bills. The currency was new, and the serial numbers were in sequence. Postal inspectors who later recovered the mail from the Hammond police believed the bills had been abandoned as too risky to carry because of their easy identification.

JAPANESE SHIP LOST IN CRASH; 23 MISSING

Sunk in Collision With German Vessel; 15 of Rescued Crew Are Landed

London, March 26.—A message to Lloyds from the North Foreland wireless station reports that a Japanese steamship sank after colliding with the German steamship Heimdal near Dungeness in a dense fog.

The Heimdal took off 15 members of the Japanese crew, said the message, and arrived at Dover today with her bows damaged.

There were no signs of the remainder of the Japanese crew, who are believed to have been asleep at the time of the collision and to have gone down with the ship.

A later message said the sunken steamer was the Tokufuku Maru, bound from Bremen for Japan, and that twenty-three of her crew were missing.

Lloyds Register lists the Tokufuku Maru as a steel vessel of 5,859 gross tonnage. She was last reported to have arrived at Rotterdam on March 3.

TRIBUTE PAID PELLETIER AT BANQUET

Blackstone Club Members Stand Silent for Minute and Pass Resolutions

Members of the Blackstone Club, a political organization, holding their annual banquet at the City Club, who had been listening to a speech in defence of former District Attorney Pelletier by ex-State Senator James H. Brennan of Charlestown, were saddened when former Mayor Fitzgerald entered and announced that Mr. Pelletier had died.

Out of respect for the memory of the man who had been the personal friend of many of those present, the entertainment features of the evening were cancelled and all stood silent for one minute.

Mr. Fitzgerald, who was then introduced, paid a glowing tribute to Mr. Pelletier. He reminded his hearers of the great work he had done for the Knights of Columbus and said he was a man with a great mind and a big heart. He was a splendid type of gentleman, he said.

"With his death, a great heart has been consigned to history," Mr. Fitzgerald declared.

At the conclusion of his talk, the members of the club adopted resolutions of sympathy to be sent to the bereaved members of Mr. Pelletier's family.

Ex-Senator Brennan, not knowing that Mr. Pelletier had died, had just finished painting a verbal picture of the former district attorney in which he referred to him as a victim of persecution, when Mr. Fitzgerald arrived.

He had said, after condemning those who criticized Mr. Pelletier: "They did not give him an opportunity to meet his accusers. They hounded him from the moment the accusations were first made against him."

The other speakers were: Former Representative James Murphy, president of the Blackstone Club; Ex-State Senator Thomas F. Donovan, State Councillor George Curran, City Councillor John A. Donoghue, Representative James Mellon of Charlestown, and Thomas Phelan.

Eat Your Cake and Have It Too

You know how quickly most things you buy wear out—how often they have to be replaced.

But think of Cement. Here is a product that is used yet not consumed. It is the basic material in Concrete.

Concrete grows stronger with age. Concrete is fire-safe. Concrete is proof against rust, rot, decay. Concrete endures.

Practically all the Concrete improvements built in the last thirty years are still rendering substantial service. They will continue so to serve for many years to come.

Concrete permanently advances standards of health and sanitation. It continually helps to increase general prosperity.

You yourself ride safely and comfortably over Concrete roads and streets. You derive important benefits from Concrete dams and aqueducts. You are protected against fire in Concrete hospitals, schools, theaters, apartment buildings and homes.

You and yours make use of Concrete every day of your lives—yet you never consume it.

Portland Cement, in the form of Concrete, contradicts the old proverb that "you cannot eat your cake and have it too."

He measures "service" in split-seconds

A BUSINESS man, whose affairs touch distant parts of the world, measures The First National Bank's service to him in split seconds.

You won't recognize his picture—but it's typical. He picks out the spot on the world map where his fortunes are turning at the moment, calls the bank, and gives an order to be executed half way round the world.

Do you realize how the wires are humming to carry out his orders—and yours?

In a single month 15,000 messages went to Chicago over our private wires, and as many to New York. Six thousand telephone conversations were carried on with New York alone, 1,500 with Philadelphia. From Chicago some 3,000 messages flash out each month to the cities of the Middle West—bound on your business.

WHILE you are dressing we can cable London and get an answer. Before you are half through breakfast we can exchange messages with Buenos Aires; we can hear from London or Havana before you have finished reading this advertisement.

And out at the forks of the road on this network of wire-ways stand our alert correspondents, some 697 leading banks in the United States, and over the world some 16,000—ready, all of them, to act upon your orders.

Pick out the spot on your map. Then turn to the bank whose communications reach that spot and place the world at the other end of your desk telephone.

ANDY MARTIN AND SHEPPARD TO BATTLE AT PORTLAND

PASSING OF BULGER IS MOURNED

By JACK CONWAY

Andy Martin, Boston's Bantam Flash, will confirm his merry march in the direction of the world's bantamweight championship when he clashes with Johnny Sheppard of Woburn in the feature ten-round bout at the Pine Tree A. C. of Portland, Me., on Friday night.

Andy Martin

Martin recently knocked out Young Diaz at Providence. Diaz had given Young Montreal and Abe Friedman furious engagements. The fact Martin was able to knock Young Diaz out in impressive style is a tribute to his combative qualities.

Billy Henderson, who was responsible for much of the success gained by Eddie Shevlin, and Sam Price are managing Martin. They are sure that inside of a year Martin will be battling for the New England bantamweight championship.

Sheppard, a consistent winner, will give Martin a severe test on Friday night. The Woburn youth may be relied upon to mix things with his opponent at close quarters.

GOLDSTEIN'S VICTORY HELPS BANTAMWEIGHT DIVISION.

The victory of Abe Goldstein over Joe Lynch has given new life to the bantamweight division. Lynch, as has been pointed out in this column on numerous occasions, had been passe as a fighting man for more than a year. He clung on to his championship by refusing to tackle a legitimate challenger. The New York Boxing Commission finally forced Lynch into a meeting with Goldstein.

Goldstein's victory shows the value of perseverance. After having been knocked out by Joe Lynch and Johnny Buff, he came back and won the highest possible honor in his boxing division.

JACK BULGER'S DEATH IS HEAVY LOSS TO BOXING GAME.

Jack Bulger, manager of Mickey Walker and as fine a character as the boxing game has ever known, has passed to his eternal reward. Peritonitis following an operation for acute appendicitis claimed this true friend, genuine sportsman, keen manager, loving husband.

Bulger, only thirty-five years of age, was called from life when all the world appeared bright to him, when he could only see merriment and joy around him. He probably had more friends than most men connected with the boxing game.

Here's One of the Celtic Basketball Stars

JACK BECKMAN

CHAMPION FIVE PLAYS HERE TOMORROW

Johnny Beckman, Nat Holman, "Spider" Loppchig and the rest of the world champion Original Celtics basketball stars are due in the Hub today.

Tomorrow night they will make their only Boston appearance of the season against the all-star Boston Nationals in the feature game of a twin-bill at Mechanics Building.

In the other end of the double-header the St. Mary's Catholic Club of Cambridge and the Brockton Young Men's Hebrew Association are slated to settle the local semi-pro title.

In the lineup against the great Celtics will be the brilliant "Dutch" Gunther of Springfield, "Whitey" Bernot of Worcester and Wally Banks of Providence. This trio never have played before a Boston crowd although they rank with the best basket shooters New England has developed in a decade.

Along with them will be the elongated "Tacks" Connell, who will jump centre against Loppchig; Hugh Dolan, Danny Silva and Walter Costello.

The last trio have played together for many years. Bernott and Gunther are accustomed to each other's style of play and as a result they team well.

The Nationals will present able combination play, and that gives rise to the belief that the Celtics will receive stiff opposition from them.

TUOHEY STAGES WRESTLING SHOW

With every one of the six grapplers on edge and primed for fast work, Promoter Tuohey's big mat carnival in Mechanics Building tonight promises plenty of high-grade wrestling regardless of which way victory goes in any of the events.

The clash between McGill and Grandovich marks the initial appearance here of the Irish-Nebraskan who has been the real sensation of the game this season where ever he has shown, and especially in New York where he showed against Lewis and later defeated Zickman, the big Bohemian.

Allen Eustace.

Although rated as the cleverest of the big men in the game he can take care of himself under any conditions, as he is about the same brand and weight of line here Frank Gotch and is one of the most aggressive men in the game today.

Grandovich is not so clever, but has great power and knows how to use his great strength to his best advantage. He showed this when he tossed Stan Zbyszko around so hard when they clashed in this city and he banks on using McGill the same way this evening.

McGill is ripe for any kind of going, so the fans may well expect to see the big Irish chap uncover all his rare skill during the contest.

The Alvarez-Eustace match will bring together another pair of high-grade matmen to a one-fall finish, and as both are in fine form for the contest will in all likelihood prove a treat to lovers of the game. Joe is after a return match with Mondt, and will demand this in case he wins over the smooth moving Kansas star.

Patsy McCarthy

Patsy McCarthy and Charley Marshall, both aggressive in the extreme, but also knowing wrestling from A to Z, will try to settle their differences in a one-fall match, which is limited to 30 minutes, in order to get the other big numbers under way early.

JAPANESE NINE ON THE EAGLE SCHEDULE

Manager Chris Duncan has announced that two new games have been added to the Boston College nine's schedule. The holiday, June 17, will be celebrated by a game with the diamond stars of Japan, who will wear the colors of Meya University. This will be their only appearance of the Japanese team in this part of the country.

Frank McCrehan

The second game will be with a Portland nine, and will be played at Portland as a feature of the American Legion Carnival in June.

The Eagle team, now composed of thirty-four men, made the first appearance in the open, when Coach Olaf Henricksen led the team out onto Volkman Field, Brighton. The field is close to the Commonwealth Armory where the nine had practiced.

As soon as the condition of Alumni Field warrants, the team will take up an extensive course of training there, and the much heralded cut to eighteen men will be made.

BUDDY CLARK IS ON WITH FLANAGAN

Buddy Clark of Salem, one of the hardest punchers in the lightweight ranks and a boy whom many believe has the making of a champion, will get the acid test at Lynn next Monday night when he meets Tommy Flanagan of New Bedford in the feature bout at the Casino A. C.

Clark is a great favorite with the Lynn and Salem fans as he is always fighting and his terrific hitting ability with either hand is liable to send his opponent to sleep any time he lands.

In Flanagan he will meet the best opponent he has ever faced, as the New Bedford battler has held Pete Hartley and Frankie Britt to a draw, and he has defeated Harry Carlson, Gene Perrier, Barney Rivers, Jimmy Fruzetti, Mick Landers, Harry Stone, Hughey Kennedy, Francis Rossi, Newman Reagan and Willie Stanton.

George Corbitas, the fighting Greek of Peabody, and Johnny Mario of Boston are paired in the semi-final.

Red Sox Get Ready to Leave Camp Monday

By FRED C. LANE.

San Antonio, Tex., March 26.—The Red Sox stay in San Antonio will end Monday night. The barnstorming trip will start.

To make it possible for his team to get off on the right foot President Quinn has sacrificed financial gain that the Red Sox may be in condition from the opening bell.

They will make six stops on the way to Boston and spend two days in each city except at Louisville. That is listed for three games.

Only those players who have a fighting chance to win a berth on the roster will be carried, but strange as it may seem there are several rookies on the list.

Raymond Gaygan of Columbus, fresh from the sand lots of that city, has made such a fine impression in San Antonio that he will be carried along and he will get into a few contests before April 15.

There is little chance that he will stay with the Red Sox for the full season. Yet he is a ball player from his cap down to his shoes, but needs experience.

He is not twenty. He has a natural style. He handles the ball like a veteran.

Howard Ehmke

Gaygan will be farmed out to one of the teams in the Eastern League, where his work in that circuit will be watched. He aspired for a short-stop job, but as that position will be held down by Dudley Lee, who will set Boston wild, he shifted to second base with even better results.

It may take a year and possibly two before he is ripe for big league company, but it's a sure bet he will don the suit of some major league team before long.

The sun-baked outfield makes the Red Sox practice hard on the feet.

A spell of rain will be welcomed by Manager Fohl.

Another exhibition game with San Antonio is on the calendar today.

Lester Howe, last season in the Eastern League, will take the mound for the Red Sox.

Enters the Preakness

Lexington, Ky., March 26.—John S. Ward, Bourbon County turfman, announces that his colt, Wise Counsellor, regarded as one of the outstanding candidates for the Kentucky Derby, will have his first engagement this Spring in The Preakness at Pimlico, should he continue to train satisfactorily.

KOTSONAROS IS FIT FOR GO WITH TARAMASCHI

By RINGSIDE

"I shall give Angelo Taramaschi the most decisive defeat he has ever received," declared George Kotsonaros, Greek heavyweight champion, today.

George Kotsonaro

"The reports that I have been suffering from boils are false. They were manufactured from whole cloth. I was recently advised to wrestle Vadalfi, and when the contest did not take place it was announced that I had boils. The only reason why I didn't meet the Italian was because the promoters failed to keep their agreement with me.

"I have been training steadily since arriving in Boston. I have already won over Taramaschi once and will do so again tomorrow night. The Italian is a rough, tough fellow, but I know too much about the fine points of the wrestling game for him. I shall force the issue from the start and I feel confident I shall score two falls inside of two hours. I can defeat any Italian wrestler in the world. This goes, regardless of whom my opponent may be."

Kotsonaros, fifteen pounds heavier than he was when he was campaigning here last season, is considered the most skillful wrestler in the world. With his added weight, he will be able to make things interesting for any of the big fellows.

Taramaschi also reports he is ready for the test and that he will carry his rival along at a torrid clip tomorrow night.

"Kotsonaros won over me by unfair methods when we last met," said the Italian today. "I shall be prepared for his foul tactics tomorrow night and shall treat him rough if he tries any wise tactics. I shall give the Greek title holder the most decisive setback of his career."

MELROSE CLUB WINS HOCKEY TITLE

The East Side Neighborhood Club hockey team of Melrose is the champion of the Intermediate Suburban League, Hockey Association of New England. The team had a record of nine victories and no defeats.

The team was well fortified on offence and defence.

Harry McDougal

The team met and defeated some of the best hockey teams in and around Boston.

Olson, besides being a very clever centre ice man, was the leading goal scorer in the league.

Both Colombo, left wing, and Loesser, right wing, proved fine players and gave Melrose a splendid forward line with plenty of scoring power.

The defence did splendid work and kept opposing scores low. DeSilva, captain and right defence, was a hard man to get by and teamed nicely with Critchett at left defence.

One of the features of the defence was the wonderful work of Taylor in the net. Taylor was one of the best goal tenders in the league.

Doucette, Bolton, Barnes and Campe did fine work as substitutes in both forward and defence positions.

The team was ably managed by Harry McDougall.

STRANGLER LEWIS WINS FROM ZYBSZKO

Chicago, March 26.—"Strangler" Ed Lewis, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, retained his title against Stanislaus Zbyszko, aged former champion, when he won two out of three falls last night by applying toe holds instead of his famous headlock.

Zbyszko took the first fall with a wrinkick in 32:05; Lewis won the second in 8:40 with a toe lock and took the third wits a double toe lock in 9:15.

Pitchers Yeargin and Cooney Look Good

By NICK FLATLEY

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 26.—Rest, so to speak, confronted the Braves today. They didn't have any ball game scheduled, so they were to take ease at a couple of practice spasms, each at least four times as strenuous as any contest ever was.

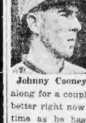
The team is now ready for what you might call the polishing off process. The weather hasn't been so good, up to the last week, but every member of the squad has tucked in enough exercise to peel the fat off the muscles.

The epidemic of colds that arrived during the rainy spell is gradually passing away, nothing of said troubles being left except a few cases of sniffles and things like that.

The team has nine more days of Florida baseball left, and will carry through them at a more or less merry clip.

"Things have gone along," declares Manager Bancroft, "to my complete satisfaction. We have had some poor days, but we have doubled up on the good ones, so everybody's in proper Spring shape. I have been pleasantly surprised by the work of some of the young pitchers, and it looks to me as if a couple of the boys are up here to stay for quite a while."

Bancy undoubtedly was thinking of Cooney and Yeargin, who worked against the Dodgers while the Braves won their first road game, 11 to 2. Both young men performed nobly on the mound. The heatless acquired only four safe hits.



Johnny Cooney

Cooney's work was expected. He has been carried along for a couple of years. He looks better right now than he did at that time as he has packed on a few pounds, and he has gathered some extra speed. He threw them by the Dodger batters at times, and that was a surprise. All Johnny needs to be one of the best is the fast ball. He has everything else.

Jim Yeargin

James Yeargin of Gre nsboro was the real surprise, however. James you will recall, was with the club last Spring. He looked raw but useful. But he didn't like the climate, or something. He was blue and lonesome, and finally asked to be sent back to dear old Carolina, which shows just how blue he must have been.

Maguire

Casey Stengel and Stuffy McInnis are back in the regular lineup, which now has Bob Smith on third, looking as if he intends to remain there. Bob has been fielding a la Jimmy Collins, and pokes out his bats hit in each game. All he needs to do is hit a little bit and he never will be blasted off that base.

NOVICE CLASSES IN ST. JOSEPH TOURNEY

On account of the popularity of the novice boxers in recent tournaments, President William H. Cuddy, who conducted the recent international bouts, has announced that there will be four novice classes in the tournament of the St. Joseph's T. A. S. to be held at Commercial Hall, Bowdoin Square.

The novices will compete in the 118, 125, 135 and 160 pounds. In addition there will be two open classes including 108 pounds and 147 pounds.

FITTON COUNCIL TO HOLD RING BOUTS

Fitton Council, K. of C., will hold its next amateur boxing tournament Monday night in Columbus Hall, East Boston. Many out of town boxers will compete. Leo Supple, Franklin K. O. artist, has entered the 126 pound class. Leo would like nothing better than to trade wallops with Eddie Devine, South End K. O. artist. A truck load of rooters will accompany Supple to East Boston.

Competition will be held in five classes, 112, 118, 135 pounds novice; 126, 147 pounds open. Entries close Saturday with Tommy Regan, No. 36 Neptune road, East Boston.

NO "PRO" HOCKEY HERE NEXT WINTER

Professional hockey is not for Boston next Winter. That was decided at a meeting of the board of directors of the Boston Arena. The interesting features of the meeting, as expressed in an official statement, was the recognition on the part of the directors that the promotion of professional hockey for Boston has its points of merit and the intimation that it might be introduced here Winter after next.

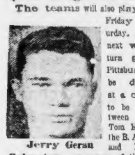
B.A.A. AND PITTSBURGH OPEN HOCKEY CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

VISITORS DECIDED CHOICE

The amateur hockey championship of the United States is at stake in the series between the B. A. A., winner of the Eastern group competition, and the Pittsburgh Yellow Jackets, winner of the Western title, which opens tonight at the Arena.

The teams will also play here on Friday and Saturday. Dates for next week's returns games in Pittsburgh will be determined at a conference to be held between Manager Tom Kennedy of the B. A. A. team and Roy D. Schooley, secretary of the United States Amateur Hockey Association.



Jerry Geran

Admission tickets will be placed on sale at 7:30 tonight. Reserved seats are available at the Arena.

Never in the history of amateur club hockey in this country has a championship series attracted so much attention. It overshadows past series between the B. A. A. and St. Paul and the Westminsters and St. Paul.

Although Pittsburgh enters the big test as favorite, there are many hockey followers who lean to the B. A. A. outfit because of its hockey intelligence.

Pittsburgh, man to man, appears to carry more class than the Unicorns but many fans quetion the Yellow Jackets can show the coordination in play that has marked the B. A. A.'s efforts in the last half of the season.

Pittsburgh emerged from one of the most bitter battles ever waged in club hockey. The Yellow Jackets disposed of St. Paul and Cleveland, but only by rugged play.

Irving Small

The Yellow Jackets play open and dashing hockey, just the sort that probably will provide plenty of openings for a crafty man like Jerry Geran.

Pittsburgh comes here with plenty of reserve strength, and this is the factor that is likely to operate against B. A. A. When men like Tex White, Paddy Sullivan and Herb Drury are rated as second stringers to men like Duke McCurry, Harold Cotton and Alex McKinnon, it gives the fans an idea of what the Unicorn is up against.

The battle between the defenses will be pretty to watch. As Smith, Irving Small and Eddie Enright in front of the B. A. A. net have repeatedly demonstrated they rate with the truly great defense men of amateur hockey.

Harold Cotton

It will not be decided until game time whether Frenchie Le Croix or Hugh Nickle will be in the Unicorn net.

Pittsburgh will present that colorful athlete, Lionel Conacher, in the defense. He will work with Roger Smith, a sturdy and effective man in front of the nets. Roy Worters will be in the net.

Art Ross of Montreal and Steve Vair of Toronto have been selected to officiate in the series. Both men rate high in the hockey world and can be depended upon to rule with a firm hand.

BOYS' CLUB HAS BASKETBALL TOURNEY

Applications are being received by the Boys' Club of Boston for the basketball tournament at the clubhouse in Charlestown.

It is the desire of the club to have every amateur team in Boston whose weight will correspond with any of the three divisions—110-120, 123-130, 133-145—enter the tourney.

Referees from the central board will officiate at all the games. Among those who have volunteered are George Hoyt, Jack Timmons, Henry McGuiness, Irving Ruby, George Rankert, "Okie" O'Connor, George Clark, Dutch Holland and Frank Hefron.

LYNN NEWSBOYS ASK MAYOR'S HELP

The junior newsboys of Lynn have a grievance. Theifact that the baseball season is in the near distance probably has something to do with their complaint.

A dozen "Shoe City" newsboys, headed by Leon Rabinavitz, visited City Hall and presented Mayor McPhetres with a petition and asked him to change the present badge regulations to the end that they can attend the holiday games at the big league parks. Although the boys think 40 cents a year is high for the badge they won't mind that if they could enjoy the ball games as do the newsboys of Boston, Cambridge, Waltham and other nearby cities.

The oval shape school committee badges in these cities has admitted the newsboy to the opening holiday game ever since the big parks were built.

Mayor McPhetres promised to aid the boys in the matter.

THREE CALIFORNIA COLLEGES TO ENTER

Three Pacific coast colleges will compete in the intercollegiate track and field meet at the Harvard Stadium on May 30 and 31.

Washington, Pa., March 26.—Bob Caffrey, former Duquesne University star, who received a try-out with the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1923 and later was with the Williamsport Club of the New York Pennsylvania League, has signed a contract to pitch for the Bridgeport, Ct., club of the Eastern League and will leave next Monday to join that club.

STAR ATHLETES ENTER CITY GYM MEET

Keen competition is expected in the final indoor track meet to be staged by the Boston Park Department in the gymnasium of the Curtis Hall, Jamaica Plain, Friday night.

William Mullen.

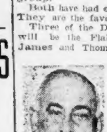
Almost one hundred winners of the district meets with complete and will try to annex the laurels for their districts.

Instructor Maurice Smith of the Curtis Hall gym figures to win with a group of the best athletes in these parts. George and John Short, who are both entered in the 300 and 1,000 yards events, are looked on to score points.

Another gym team which should show well is the Columbia road group.

Both have had experience indoors. They are the favorites.

Three of the Dorchester athletes will be the Flahive boys, John, James and Thomas, all of whom have qualified in the high jump.



Maurice Smith

William Mullen, who has charge of the squad at Columbia Road Gym, hopes to push the teams representing Roslindale, Vine Street, Brookline Street and Curtis Hall.

The Mayor will attend.

The Park Commission has done everything to give the athletes from all over the city plenty of opportunity and encouragement. In the early season there were elimination meets. The first three in the 75-yard dash, 300-yard run, 600-yard run and 1,000-yard run and running high jump will receive prizes, and the first two teams in the relay event will be rewarded.

Interest has been shown by Mayor Curley to encourage the young men to compete for honors in the Municipal Building for the uplift of physical health and to encourage the necessary exercises to keep in good health.

WILBUR COMMENDS OLYMPIC GAMES

Washington, March 24.—Secretary of the Navy Wilbur strongly commended the participation this Summer of the navy in the Olympic games at Paris, France. He said: "I have instructed Admiral Eberle, chief of operations, to lend every facility to the young athletes in the belief that outdoor athletics has a beneficient effect on morale."

ALL-STARS TOO STRONG FOR MAPLES

There was abundance of action in the game that the Boston All-Stars won from the Maple A. A., 6 to 3, at the Arena in one section of a double - header that brought to a close the season's exhibition games.

Leo Hughes

In the other half of the bill, Cambridge Legion won the final match for the championship of the Hockey Association of New England when they defeated Camp Parker, 3 1. It was the first beating that Camp Parker has taken this season.

Boston College authorities refused to grant the members of their team permision to have places in the All-Stars line-up, but sufficient talent was recruited to organize a team that outplayed the Maples.

Lane, Regeroft and Letson of the Boston Hockey Club, joined with Hughes, O'Donnell, of Newton High, and Roberts, spare goal tender for the B. A. A., to compose the All-Stars and performed quite capably.

Lyons Defeats Gatcomb

"Peaches" Lyons, Charlestown, won an easy game from Fed Gatcomb of Malden in the New England pocket billiard championship at the State Theatre Club, 125 to 81.

CULHANE NAMED CAPTAIN FOR HOCKEY

"Jack" Culhane of Cambridge was elected captain and Edmund C. Spang of Dorchester, manager of the Boston College hockey team. The helmeted dash played a wonderful game for the Eagle all year at wing, and attracted the attention of many who listed All-American selections.

Jack Culhane.

Culhane lives in Cambridge, where he formerly played with the Cambridge Latin team. He played forward with Henry Groden, the other Eagle wing man since he first landed at University Heights, and this season in particular gave an outstanding performance of hockey in every game in which he played.

In the early part of the season it was uncertain as to whether or not he would appear in the opening lineup, as he injured his head in a baseball accident during the Summer. A leather helmet, however, was tried, and proved successful.

He was one of the high scorers, and the combination, Culhane to Pooy, has accounted for more than a dozen points.

When the team comes out on the ice next Fall, Culhane will be able to call upon a double quartet of veterans. The eight other letter men who participated in the elections make up the nucleus. They are: Ex-Captain Fitzgerald, Sonny Foley, Fibbs Malloweney, Red Mahoney, Red Groden, Percy Fitzgerald, "Bowser" Johnson and Al O'Neil.

CAMBRIDGE BASEBALL MANAGERS WILL MEET

The Cambridge Recreation Department has called a meeting of all the baseball managers in that city for Friday night.

The Recreation Department plans to promote better organization among the local teams and an invitation has been extended to team officials to meet in the hall of the Agassiz School, Sacramento street.

It is believed that co-operation and organization among the baseball teams throughout Cambridge will result in a better season, both for players and for the general public.

BERGDOLL IS ON WAY BACK TO AMERICA

Draft Evader Accompanied by Chauffeur Under Indictment at Philadelphia

Eberbach, Baden, March 26.—Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the American draft evader, left here for an unknown destination. As he carried considerable luggage, it is generally assumed that he is quitting Germany.

Grover Bergdoll

Bergdoll motored out of Eberbach in the direction of Frankfurt, where it is believed he will take a train for Hamburg and sail for New York on the new liner of the Hamburg-American Company, which begins its maiden trip on Thursday.

The American draft evader was accompanied by Eugene Stecher, his chauffeur, who was with Bergdoll when the attempt was made to kidnap him last Summer, and who is said to be under indictment in Philadelphia for having aided Bergdoll to escape from the United States.

Badenese government officials breathed a sich of relief today when it became known Bergdoll had pulled up stakes and departed. They said they did not know where he had gone and, furthermore, didn't care.

When Bergdoll left Eberbach he said goodby only to his uncle, Carl Bohrmann, proprietor of the Krone Post Hotel, where the draft evader had made his home for more than three years.

Officials of the North German Lloyd Steamship Company at Bremen declared Bergdoll had made no reservations for passage on the steamship Amerika, which sails today.

It was reported that the draft invader, travelling under an assumed name, boarded the Amerika this morning, but this report was unverified.

"CLEAN OUT CROOKS," SAYS MAYOR CURLEY

"I'd like to see the Chief Executive of this nation exert his power and clean out thecrooks in high positions, whether they be Democrat or Republican," declared Mayor Curley in his welcoming address delivered in the Copley Plaza before the annual convention of the Massachusetts Retail Jeweler's Association. And after his brief opening words, the Mayor immediately launched into the present need of the government to have business men running the various departments, as they did in war times.

BOSTON CLERGY TO WELCOME CARDINAL

Many Gather in New York for O'Connell's Arrival Tomorrow

By BERT FORD.

New York, March 26.—Prominent clergy and laymen of the Catholic diocese of Boston have gathered in this city to welcome Cardinal O'Connell when he returns tomorrow from his ten-week tour of the Holy Land.

The ranking Catholic prelate of the United States is a passenger on the Cunard liner Franconia. He is accompanied by his secretary, the Rt. Rev. Richard J. Haberlin, and Monsignor Michael J. Splain of St. Joseph's Church, Roxbury.

Cardinal O'Connell

A report circulated in Boston that the Franconia was ahead of her schedule owing to favorable weather and would undoubtedly dock on Wednesday, caused a delegation to hasten here yesterday. Their number was increased by other clergymen and laymen who arrived today.

TO GO DOWN HARBOR.

The latest radio from the Franconia indicated that she could not hope to dock before Thursday morning at the earliest. In spite of the fact that the greeting is to be informal in compliance with the wishes of the Cardinal, there is a notable gathering of ecclesiastics on hand.

The reception headquarters is at Hotel Belmont.

The Rev. Francis A. Burke, secretary of the Chancery office of the Boston diocese, is in charge of headquarters, and active in arranging the plans. The clergy and laymen will go down on the revenue cutter and board the Franconia in the harbor.

FR BURKE IN CHARGE.

Among those here at present are the Rt. Rev. Mgr Joseph F McGlinchey, Diocesan director of the Propagation of Faith; Father Burke, who is modestly serving as master of ceremonies; the Rt Rev. Mgr. Arthur T. Connolly of the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, Jamaica Plain; the Rt. Rev. Mgr. John H. Peterson, director of St. John's Seminary, Brighton.

Rowley has asked in a bill of complaint presented to the Supreme Judicial Court for the removal of certain officials and an accounting of trust funds estimated at $1,500,000.

"I notified the trustees about what was going on and nothing was done," he declared. "Instead my wife and I were subjected to persecution here and Pearson told me he would make it so hot for me I would get out. Finally I went to Mr. Rowley."

FORD PLOTTER NOW BLAMES BOLSHEVISTS

Bohemian's Story Clears Landlady Held in Extortion Case

Detroit, March 26—Vaslov Simek, the young Bohemian held on the charges of attempting to extort $1,050,000 from Edsel Ford by writing letters threatening to blind the three Ford children, has changed his story and told the prosecutor that he was the agent of a band of Bolshevists.

His new statement cleared his landlady, Simek asserting that the band of twenty others and himself had selected her as the scapegoat.

The prosecutor is pressing to-day the indictment and conviction of Simek with the maximum of [illegible] asking the Federal [illegible] to deport him. Mrs. Annie Hladk, the landlady, will be released.

According to her statement Simek, while working in the Ford factory, came home one day with a "big idea" to make a lot of money. He later gave her a long list of Bohemian words and asked her to translate them into English.

"I think those words were the ones he used in writing to Mr. Ford," she explained, "but I did not know this at that time."

The police discount the "confession."

SKULLS BARE PREHISTORIC TRAGEDY

Geologists Believe Skeletons Found on Western Ranch Are 25,000 Years Old

Los Angeles, March 26—A prehistoric tragedy in which three men and a woman [illegible] across a stream and near what now is Hollywood was unearthed by [illegible] that prove to have preceded the Indians in the [illegible] of this state.

According to tentative deductions of geologists and paleontologists examining skulls and skeleton fragments unearthed on the Rancho [illegible]

Found twenty-three feet below the surface, the four fossilized skeletons are thought to be those of persons who lived from 15,000 to 25,000 years ago. Dr. William A. Ryan, director of the Los Angeles Museum of History, Science and Art, who has directed the excavations, declared the estimates were conservative.

Dr. Love Miller, professor of biology at the University of California, pointed out that only pain-taking research could establish with any degree of certainty the age to which the fossils belong.

Portions of the fossil skeletons have been sent to Berkeley and will be submitted to various tests. Most of the fossilized bones will remain at the Los Angeles museum, where experts will try to reassemble them. Later they may be shipped to the Smithsonian Institution at Washington for further scrutiny.

78 PLEDGED AS DELEGATES FOR COOLIDGE

List of Candidates Approved by President Filed for Primary Contest

A complete set of candidates for the thirty-nine delegates and thirty-nine alternates to the Republican national convention pledged to the support of President Coolidge, that they will support no candidate except as a second choice, was filed with the Secretary of State.

The papers were filed by Thomas W. White of the State Commission on Administration and Finance, who was given the power of attorney to do so by President Coolidge.

The action means that only those named in the list filed by Mr. White will have opposite their names on the ballot in the Presidential primary April 29 a statement that they are pledged to vote for the President at the convention.

Persons who have already filed nomination papers bearing similar statements will not be allowed to use such references to the President on the primary ballot, as the assent of the candidate to the use of his name in such manner is necessary under the election laws of this State.

3 MINUTE JOURNEYS

By Temple Manning

A Glimpse of the Great City of Buenos Aires.

IT'S about two days' sail from New York to Buenos Aires, as it is from New York to Paris, which means that comparatively few tourists visit the metropolis of the Southern Hemisphere, in spite of inducements to that end offered by operators of American steamships running there from New York express speed.

A visit to "B. A." as the native call it, would open the eyes of many Americans who think of South Americans as semi-savages like the Mexicans, and Central and South American cities as the tropical creations dogs run in the Caribbean zones, but away down south in Argentina a great, progressive city has arisen which will compare favorably with London, Paris, Berlin and New York.

If you judge the culture of the city by its methods of transportation itself, you might well give the palm to "B. A." The opera house there makes the handsome Metropolitan look like a car barn from an architectural standpoint, and it houses a company as large and as splendid as that of New York.

The race track at Buenos Aires is finer than that of Longchamps, The home of the Jockey Club in the city, is more magnificent than any club in New York.

"B. A." is a vast industrial, commercial, and agricultural city. Hides, cattle, meats and grain are shipped on huge fleets to all parts of the world from the vast interior pampas of the Argentine.

And yet much of this splendor is superficial. Travel more in the cities of "B. A." and you find that ten or twelve square miles of modern city, and you find that the common people live much the same fashion as in the colonial South American towns. The houses are mostly poster one type of fairly. Similar streets, one can permit the city to grow, but for into the outlying districts modern drainage system, sidewalks and its pavements.

Because of the fine and the houses are one of the finest those cities to compare to Brooklyn, Boston, and the drained and modern.

The contrast to the people of the city proper with its two-story houses is seen at first sight. Buenos Aires its hundreds of impressive Rolls Royce and the like, and its broadcloth the city is seeking. Between the well-to-do and the poor there is a wide gulf bridged by a very small middle class living conditions are much better than "B. A." than in our home cities and wages for the laboring classes are considerably lower. But you know how the poor manage to exist.

HEROINES OF HISTORY

By Mark Sullivan

How Fate Toyed With an Opera Singer.

FATE is not always as kind as Nature—unless it indeed happens to be fate who directs nature and so supplies misfortune as the genius and stores the whole into the nonsense we called life.

When Maria Felicia Malibran was born in a log French town a most at the beginning of the last century a fairy godmother hovered round, dropping free gifts upon the small daughter of Manuel Garcia, a Spanish tenor.

He was all talent, which he had discovered, and beautiful, was handed down to the baby, one day to grow into the rarest of all her treasures.

With these were bestowed the restless mind accompanying the fame and accomplishment of a composer, and the dramatic instinct, especially a woman's movement on the stage.

These three gifts, any one of which would mean success and happiness to the ordinary woman, were Maria's. But to offset them fate dropped capriciously into her cradle a jealous husband and became the darling of the country.

But in New York City the adverse attitude began to dominate [illegible]

She became acquainted with M. Malibran, a French banker. He was double her age and in no way suited to her temperament and life. But she believed him wealthy. Accordingly she promised to marry him and did so to go through bankruptcy with him soon after the wedding.

Malibran appeared to lose all interest in his wife as there was no surprise when the singer left him and returned to France.

She lost little time in obtaining a divorce, and was married at once to Monsieur de Beriot, the celebrated violinist. The pair went to Belgium to live, and for a brief period the daughter of Garcia knew romance and happiness.

But the malicious fate had decreed for her was not to be escaped. It was a fall from her horse, a somersault right before her husband, but one which brought about a lingering illness.

Maria Felicia Malibran was only twenty-eight when death proved the contest he seen her for time and misfortune she died at Manchester, England.

"No; I am surprised. I thought they were merely flirting."

"Yes; he thought so, too," was the significant reply.

New York Stock Market Prices Mixed with Studebaker and United States Steel Higher

BEARS' ATTACK LOPS 2 POINTS OFF CHANDLER

Mixed rates movements prevailed in the New York stock market today. Studebaker, Baldwin and U. S. Steel were all slightly higher, but the last of the so-called "Four Horsemen" did not fare so well as the other American can being weak attacked by the bears.

Can was driven down a major fraction to 168, a new low on the move.

Chandler was the motor singled out for bearish activity and was depressed 2 points, despite assurances as to the safety of the dividend and good business outlook.

STROMBERG AT LOW.

Stromberg was shot down more than a point to a new low.

In trading on the Boston Stock Exchange Hood Rubber was up a point. Other changes were for fractions. American Telephone was higher.

Boston Elevated Railway Co. reports for February 1924 surplus over cost of service $19,248, compared with $148,312 in February, 1923.

Whitney & Elwell in a letter issued today says: "We recommend the purchase of New England Telephone Company stock at present time either for investment or speculation."

N. E. TEL. FAVORED.

At the price of 108 the stock yields 7.4 per cent. free of taxes to holders in Massachusetts. The stock sold as high as 125 in 1922 and 122 in 1923. The decline in the price of the stock is due primarily to the issuance of new stock to stockholders at $100 per share in the ratio of one share of new stock for every four shares held, and also the earnings for the year 1923, which were somewhat reduced due to the effects of the strike.

"The right to subscribe to the new stock expires April 2 and we look for that the shares will advance from this price.

"We believe this stock should be purchased by either more buying or either through the purchase of rights or by buying the stock itself."

Wall St. Gossip

SINCE last July leading banks have increased holdings of corporate securities $20,742,000.

TAMPICO refinery of Mexican Eagle Oil has been closed down completely because of labor troubles.

TANNERS' COUNCIL reports that during February stocks of hides leather on hand were reduced by 250,000 sides. Total stock is now 8,200,000 sides.

CANADIAN PACIFIC for third week of March reports revenue gain of $315,000 as compared with the third week of March, 1923.

DIRECTORS of Wabash Railway took no action with respect to a dividend on preferred "A" stock.

ANNUAL REPORT of Advance Rumely is expected to show earnings about same as last year, when profits were $1.10 a share on preferred.

BOSTON, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 26, 1924

BOSTON AMERICAN

LARGEST EVENING CIRCULATION IN NEW ENGLAND

About $10,000,000 Annually Has Been Paid to Fakirs of Finance, Schemers, Swindlers and Bucket Shops in New England.

New England Needs Financial Minute Men in 1924 Just as Surely as She Needed Fighting Minute Men in 1776.

Bankers and Brokers, Be Financial Minute Men; Protect the New England Investor

Drums are calling the Financial Minute Men of New England.

Bankers, brokers, insurance, real estate, building and loan, business men—they are paging you. Shock troops are needed.

Get out of the winter bomb proofs and take up the bayonet for the integrity of home investments.

Drive out the fake reformers, the fake stock salesmen, the piratical assailants of the old time faith in New England's financial integrity.

You can do more than slow moving courts. In a single charge you can carry the flag back up the ramparts to flutter proudly above New England's financial bulwarks.

New England investors in the past five years have lost $50,000,000 beyond any hope of recovery.

An army of crooks, operating under a barrage of worthless stock certificates, has taken more than $6 from every man, woman and child in New England.

This per capita $6 includes the children not yet old enough to have any pockets to be pilfered, for it is based on the latest Federal census figures that give us a population of 7,400,909 for the six New England States.

About $10,000,000 annually has been paid to fakers of finance, schemers, swindlers, fradulent promoters, bucket shops that have no more connection with stock markets than the sun that kisses the olives and ripened grain over in Italy.

Even Charles Ponzi's ridiculous postal scheme, that should not have deceived anyone with a grain of caution, was successful for a time, preceding the tumbling of several mismanaged trust companies.

Even after Ponzi's establishment had been closed by the authorities, the Old Colony Foreign Exchange Company, a scheme in some respects similar to Ponzi's, kept its doors open and continued to have more business than it could handle.

After Ponzi had been exposed, promoters of "fly-by-nights" used the Ponzi lists, circularizing many of the victims. Some of these promoters boasted they had credulous responses from a large percentage of the Ponzi victims.

The victims of fraud that has swept New England are to be found in nearly every home, affected directly or indirectly.

The $50,000,000 of our money that has gone to silk-line the pockets of conscienceless thieves, robbers of widows and orphans, the lame, the halt and the blind, is not all the loss to New England.

Besides making us known in five short years as "easy marks" the country over—though that is only true to a limited extent—this $50,000,000 has been taken away from legitimate development of our industries.

Many people could be employed and many families made happy by the expansion in industry that the application of $50,000,000 would make possible.

To safeguard investors by demanding effective laws to punish swindlers and fake stock sellers is an undertaking for the Minute Men of 1924.

One reason why Charles Ponzi, G. F. Redmond & Company and others have rolled up quick wealth in New England is primarily BECAUSE THE MONEY IS HERE.

The pirates of finance, like the buccaneers of old, ply their trade where the wealth is greatest.

Captain Kidd picked up a couple of small vessels on his initial cruise, but he was soon lying in wait for the big golden treasure-ships.

So it is with the modern freebooters.

The only reason that their victims have been taken from the great middle class for the most part is because the money of these people came easiest.

New England has been deprived of more than the $50,000,000 actually lost, because the horrible examples of dupes and "sucker lists" have kept other people from putting many more millions of dollars into high-grade business plans.

After every exposure of one of these big swindling schemes, bankers and brokers of unquestioned integrity state the effect has been to swell the business of good houses.

The crooks are never restrained by facts or reason when they engage in their campaigns.

The men seeking backing for a business that is in the community to stay through the years must be conservative.

They cannot promise the big dividends that the crook holds out as a lure; if they did, they would have to make good.

The crook doesn't have to make good. He is not around on the day of accounting.

There are two distinct ways in which money may be lost in stocks or bonds. One is by swindling the would-be investor. The other through ill-advised speculation.

THE MODERN FREEBOOTER

Speculation for those who cannot afford to run risks is always ill-advised, whatever the outcome.

The end, though successful, does not justify the hazards—but it is not likely to be successful. Only one speculator in hundreds is headed toward anything but eventual loss.

Few Boston Stock Exchange houses have gone down in the post-war crashes, but an interesting sidelight on the business effect of rogues and robbers prospering among us is seen in the fact that in recent years there has been a $5,000,000 depreciation in the value of local Stock Exchange seats, although the investment of brokers in the stock exchanges of Chicago, Detroit and New York City has been increasing.

While membership in a stock exchange cannot be held a complete guarantee of financial sanctity, it is a fact that most financial advisors suggest that their clients trade with houses that are members of a stock exchange.

This is partly because such houses are under scrutiny of the Board of Governors, and are promptly chastised if they indulge in any practises flagrantly unconventional.

The Boston Stock Exchange is the legitimate place to look for a market for typical New England securities.

Yet it was not long ago that a man wishing to sell 200 shares of so purely a Boston corporation as United Fruit was unable to get a bid here at the moment and was forced to carry his trade to New York.

Once no investor dared trade in any copper stock unless it was listed on the Boston Exchange. But that was years ago.

In 15 years, we are told, the value of seats on the Boston Stock Exchange has declined around 85%. If we are to stamp out frauds with any degree of success we must maintain a stock exchange that is live and up-to-date and where the people can be reasonably sure of finding a speedy market in case they wish to sell.

As it is today, many unlisted stocks can be more readily sold than some listed ones. Only two of New England's big mills are listed on the local Stock Exchange.

New England is growing. The necessity of a market for legitimate stocks, where the obvious fakes are excluded is indicated by these facts:

1.—From 1910 to 1920 New England's population increased 13%.

2.—In the same period the total of capital invested in New England increased about 100%.

3.—The value of our manufactures gained about 150%.

4.—Our bank clearings more than doubled.

In 1910 the capital invested in New England manufactures was $2,948,000,000; in 1920 it was $5,781,000,000.

In 1910 the value of our manufactured products was $2,926,000,000; in 1920 it was $7,188,000,000.

In 1910 our bank clearings were $9,577,000,000; in 1920 they were $21,595,000,000.

Secretary Atkinson of the Chicago Stock Exchange, explaining the reasons that "board" has moved into second place, surpassing the Boston Stock Exchange, is quoted as saying:

"Apart from the growth of Chicago as a financial centre, our growth is due to these factors: We have made special efforts to interest public utility corporations to list on this exchange, and we have a representative group of such corporations now on our exchange, and the list is growing.

"The increasing importance of Chicago as a financial centre has enabled corporations whose business is centred in this district to do their financing here, where formerly all large financing operations had to go to New York. With this local financing, it is natural that these stocks should be listed on this exchange, rather than on a more remote exchange."

Blue Sky Laws can do their part in driving the swindlers out of New England, but too much must not be looked for in this direction. Strange things happen whenever we begin to legislate. We are sometimes as likely to do harm as to do good with new laws.

American Telephone, the world's greatest public utility, would have been a Massachusetts corporation except for the fact that some "Blue Sky" fanatic of his day succeeded in getting passed a law that compelled American Telephone to incorporate elsewhere. This is NOT an isolated example.

There can be such a thing as too much law. Nothing that is not clearly in accord with justice should be placed upon the statute books.

There is, however, one law which appears to be efficacious, and which should be duly considered. This is the Martin Fraud Act, by which the State of New York has blazed the way in its campaign against fraudulent securities. The good houses of Wall Street generally are supporting this drive.

Men prominent in the financial district say the Martin Fraud Act has provided a way to shut down enterprises which have flourished in many of the "Blue Sky Law" States.

The hope is expressed that Congress will enact legislation paraphrasing the Martin Act to correlate the laws of all States and to create a uniform method of treating bucket shops and "bucketeers."

A movement to bring this about is under way and has the backing of members of the New York Stock Exchange, the Better Business Bureau, the American Bankers' Association, the Investment Bankers' Association of America and others.

Through the continuous strict enforcement of provisions of the Martin Act, which is purely of injunctive value and can only enforce the closing of firms engaged in practises regarded as shady, it is contended by many that bucket-shops and like evils can be eradicated.

Under the Martin Act the State obtains the evidence, presents it to a proper court, obtains a permanent injunction, and thereafter leaves the criminal prosecutions to the various district attorneys.

Thus, it is contended, the evil is checked and prospective victims are saved from being swindled. The penal law can then be used by the home authorities to follow up the advantage given them.

It is obvious that the State Department of Public Utilities should at all times have discretion in the matter of registering brokers and security salesmen.

Many unsuspecting persons, when they are confronted by a stock salesman with a Massachusetts "license," are easily convinced that the State authorities have investigated him and have found him reliable in all respects, though the fact is that the State authorities may know next to nothing about him.

If the great investing public is to be kept from losing its money as the result of fraudulent promotions, a thorough campaign of education must be conducted.

There must be a central market where one may trade with a reasonable degree of confidence.

The Boston Stock Exchange should maintain an unprejudiced vigilance board to which prospective investors could apply for information regarding stocks and bonds.

No rank promotion could survive the persistent scrutiny of such a board after public confidence had been built up.

We need a persistent campaign to give all possible publicity to the necessity for investigating before buying stocks or bonds, and to induce the public to trade with brokerage concerns in which they can place confidence.

Such a campaign could be with mutual profit conducted jointly by the members of the Boston Stock Exchange, embracing a form of publicity which would carry the names of all members of the exchange, so that the public might know just "Who's Who" in State Street.

We need to lock our stable doors before the horse is stolen. It is futile to issue warnings only after the latest swindling atrocity has been permitted to achieve its purpose unchecked.

New England needs financial Minute Men just as surely as she needed fighting Minute Men that April morning when the battle raged across the Concord flood.

Her future is in your hands.

Shall New England be great in the days to come?

Then wipe out the frauds.

Jail the crooks who dare to show their faces in our financial district—don't let them grow to the State prison stage.

Every dollar New England has to invest is needed for legitimate investments.

Our money must stand at call to enable our industries to grow and keep pace with nation-wide expansion.
